City drafts citizens for budget tips

By ADRIANE TILLMAN | VILLAGE NEWS

The City of San Diego has reached out to the public for suggestions on closing its budget deficit, and has now established a more official board of residents to help the city promote its businesses — and its revenues. The Citizens Revenue Review and Economic Competitiveness Commission was tasked in October to research methods of retaining and attracting business; to research strategies for maximizing revenues; and to look at city surveys to better understand the services the public desires.

The commission was initiated by District 1 Councilwoman Sherri Lightner, District 3 Councilman Todd Gloria and District 4 Councilman Tony Young.

Eight commissioners were appointed by council members to serve on the board, including Andrea Moser, vice president for communications at Burnham Institute for Medical Research, for District 1, and Michael Morton, chief executive officer for Brigantine Restaurant Corporation, for District 2.

The commission will add its suggestions to a paper trail of committees gone before it, however. In the 2009 Special Citizen's Task Force report, the task force said the city's budget crisis lay in "living beyond its means" by deferring expenses and postponing or under-funding aging infrastructure, retirement plans and retiree medical benefits. The city had masked the full cost of the latter expenses for several years. One of the Task Force's top recommendations was to cut retirement benefits.

"The City must find a way to reduce what has heretofore been deemed 'vested retirement benefits,'" states the report. "The City must make a firm decision on whether it wants to and, importantly, can afford to grant retiree health benefits.

"If such benefits are to continue the City must immediately commence fully funding the actuarially required annual amount. If the City decides it cannot afford such (as the Task Force believes to be the case) then the City must formally announce to its employees that the benefit has been eliminated. It is the Task Force's recommendation that the benefit be eliminated after an appropriate notice period."

Car Classic wheels in with a trunk full of fun

By ADRIANE TILLMAN | VILLAGE NEWS

In 1903, Lord Herbert drove his "horseless carriage" into La Jolla to introduce the village to its first motor-operated cart steered by a lever. The new means of transportation proved to be impossible in mud and rain and prone to tipping, but it paved the way for a new way of life.

La Jolla will focus on the history of the automobile this week with a four-day-long series of motor-related events culminating with the sixth annual Motor Car Classic on Sunday, Jan. 10 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Scripps Park.

More than 140 classic automobiles will roll into town for car connoisseurs and the public alike to view, including horseless carriages, woodies, muscle cars, Shelby Mustangs and sports cars from Italy, Britain and America. Twenty vintage motorcycles will rumble in this year, including the famous 1920 Indian Scout featured in "The World's Fastest Indian" movie. La Jolla High School will also display a student-built racecar.

"What we want from the event is that it represents La Jolla well," said John Bolthouse, executive director for the La Jolla Historical Society. "It's a high-class event and we want it to be a good event for the businesses."

The La Jolla Historical Society has assumed responsibility for the event from Promote La Jolla, the community's defunct business improvement district whose operations ceased in July after financial mishandling.

New year brings new laws Trans fat, car video screens banned

By ANTHONY GENTILE | VILLAGE NEWS

A ban on trans fat at restaurants highlights a host of new state laws ringing in 2010. County health inspectors started enforcing the ban Jan. 1 on the artificial fats deemed harmful to the body — particularly at fast-food restaurants.

"This law is all about public health. Hopefully people can make good decisions to lead a happy and healthy life," said Ric Encarnacion, environmental health specialist for San Diego County.

Effective Jan. 1, food establishments cannot use oils, margarines, shortenings or serve foods that contain trans fat, with the exception of deep-fried donuts. On Jan. 1, 2011, the ban will expand to include all foods.

"When there is no way to make a decision because the food is presented on a plate, the restaurant has to use food or food ingredients that do not contain trans fats," Encarnacion said. "The impact to the consumer is hopefully a more healthy meal."

Trans fat, which is linked to heart disease, is targeted under a new California law that became effective Jan. 1. The bill affects the restaurant industry.

The aim of the new law is to protect consumers from eating trans fat when a meal's nutrition facts are not readily available. It does not apply to any food being sold in its original manufacturer packaging.

County procures H1N1 vaccine supplies

By SEBASTIAN RUIZ | VILLAGE NEWS

The swine flu vaccine is now available to the general public and San Diego County Health and Human Services Agency (HHSA) officials encourage those seeking H1N1 vaccine to obtain it from their primary care physician. Individual doses are also available from public facilities throughout the county.

"The vaccine is being distributed based upon availability," said County Health and Human Services Agency spokesman Jose Alvarez. "The vaccine is free at any of our public health facilities. (The doses) are primarily for those who do not have a primary care physician."

To date, the San Diego County HHSA has received about 985,000 doses of the H1N1 vaccine in various forms including nasal spray and injections, Alvarez said.

Despite a recall in past months of some lower-potency vaccine, Alvarez said, the county HHSA has enough vaccine to go around and is expecting more shipments in the following months.

Those seeking the vaccine can go to one of seven public health facilities in the county. Public facilities nearest the beach-area communities include the VIP Immunizations Clinic, 3177A Ocean View Blvd., and the Public Health Center North Central, 5055 Ruffin Road.

A full list of facilities and clinics giving the vaccine throughout the county can be found at www.sdcounty.ca.gov/

Though county facilities reportedly have enough vaccine for all, at least one private facility, Scripps Mercy Hospital, 4077 Fifth Ave, has only enough for some.

"We are giving vaccine out to patients through the clinics and the primary care physicians' offices," said Kristin Reinhardt, a Scripps spokeswoman. "Any Scripps employee who wanted a vaccine could get it, or get it today if they needed."

As of Dec. 30, the county HHSA reported approximately 778 cases of people hospitalized with the potentially deadly flu, which according to the Center for Disease Control has reached "pandemic" status.

Information about the flu is available by dialing 2-1-1 or visiting the immunization branch page at www.sdiz.org/.

The Center for Disease Control Website offers advice on prevention, including age-old common sense tips like washing hands frequently and getting vaccinated against other strains of flu. ■

An elderly woman died in a Jan. 4 fire in the granny flat behind this home on La Jolla Hermosa Avenue.

LJ woman dies in fire caused by faulty wiring

By ADRIANE TILLMAN | VILLAGE NEWS

A fire broke out at a granny flat behind the house at 5530 La Jolla Hermosa Ave. in Bird Rock on Monday, Jan. 4 at 7:45 a.m., taking the life of 94-year-old Patsy Walsh Williams. Faulty electrical wiring caused the fire, according to San Diego Fire-Rescue Department spokesman Maurice Luque.

Two workmen across the street saw the smoke and attempted to break into the house to rescue the woman. The smoke prevented the men from entering the house and they used a garden hose to tackle the fire until the fire trucks arrived.

Williams was overcome by smoke and the fire fighters found her burned body after they extinguished the fire. Williams' son-in-law was found disoriented in the living room of the main house, and was transported to a La Jolla hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Four Chihuahua-mix dogs were found unharmed in the main house and turned over to Animal Control.

One of the workmen and a firefighter, who injured her arm during the rescue, also suffered from smoke inhalation.

It took firefighters 10 minutes to extinguish the fire, which caused $300,000 in damage to the structure and $100,000 to contents, according to Luque. The main house only suffered damage to the attic. ■

LJCPA to hold trustee elections

The La Jolla Community Planning Association (LJCPA) will see some fresh faces on March 4 when it holds its election for six trustee seats.

Candidates must be members of the LJCPA who have attended at least three LJCPA meetings during the 12 months prior to the election.

"This is your chance to have a say in local planning affairs and to add your voice to the recommendations of the CPA on both private development and city projects," LJCPA President Joe La Cava said.

Trustees are responsible for weighing in on land-use issues to offer recommendations to the city at the monthly meeting and at various subcommittees.

Candidates interested in running should contact a trustee or e-mail info@lajollacpa.org by the end of the LJCPA meeting on Feb. 4. Candidates will have the opportunity to introduce themselves for two minutes at the Feb. 4 meeting at 6 p.m. at the La Jolla Recreation Center, 615 Prospect St.

Trustees whose terms have expired include Darcy Ashley, John Berol, Bob Collins, Mike Costello, Tim Lucas and Ray Weiss.

For more information visit www.lajollacpa.org or call (858) 456-7900.

Question: I have a family member that is handicapped and receiving benefits. Is there anything I can or should do to protect their inheritance?

Answer: Yes, there is something that you can and should do. A Special Needs Trust can be established and funded by you to ensure that this person does not lose their public benefits, social security disability, medical health insurance, regional center support and others. This would protect their inheritance from being used to support them and will keep them qualified for all the benefits that they are on or that they may have at the time of your death.

The disadvantage of this trust is that it must be irrevocable. Once the trust is established, you can not change it. The Trustees will remain the same and the beneficiary cannot change until the death of the first beneficiary. At their death, the remainder of the funds can be distributed to their siblings.

Do you know someone that can benefit from a Special Needs Trust?

ing, which already provides its nutritional information.

"Food being sold in the original sealed package made by the manufacturer are exempt because a person can make that decision by looking at the nutrition fact panel," Encarnacion said.

According to Encarnacion, consumption of trans fat has been linked to heart disease. He said the mechanism behind the artificial fats raises bad cholesterol (low-density lipoprotein) levels while lowering levels of good cholesterol (high-density lipoprotein) — a combination health experts consider detrimental.

Penalties for eateries violating the new law will result in fines ranging from $25 to $1,000, depending on the severity of the violation. San Diego County Department of Environmental Health's field staff will look for the trans fats during their normal inspections.

"Manufacturers and retailers are cooperating very greatly with the health department to provide good meals for their consumers and to allow consumers to make an informed decision," Encarnacion said.

What else is new?

- On the calendar, a bill co-authored by local Sen. Christine Kehoe will designate May 22 as Harvey Milk Day throughout California starting this year. Assembly Bill 2567 celebrates Milk and encourages educational institutions to conduct exercises to recognize the first openly gay elected public official in California on May 22.

- On the roadways, Assembly Bill 62 puts restrictions on having video screens in vehicles. According to the California Highway Patrol (CHP), video monitors are allowed, but any video equipment within a car must be designed, operated and configured in a manner so that the driver cannot view them while operating that vehicle.

- Senate Bill 159 extends the Jan. 1 ending date for the "Move Over, Slow Down" law. This extends indefinitely the law that requires freeway drivers approaching a lane next to a stationary emergency vehicle displaying emergency lights or tow truck displaying amber warning lights to change lanes or slow down to a reasonable speed.

- A final law of note that took effect on Jan. 1 aims to help property owners avoid scams. According to the San Diego County Assessor's Office, Assembly Bill 992 helps those owning properties from being subject to scam mailers that resemble official documents when they are re-assessing the value of their property. ■

Scholarship founded in name of boy killed

The San Diego Ice Arena (SDIA) Oilers Hockey Club has established a memorial scholarship fund in the name of an 8-year-old player killed Dec. 29 when the boat he was aboard was struck by a Coast Guard vessel responding to an emergency call during the San Diego Bay Parade of Lights.

The boy, Anthony Cole DeWeese, was one of the hockey club's mite-level players. He was the goalie of the San Diego Ice Arena's Mite 1 Team. In his honor, all the players at SDIA will be wearing DeWeese's No. 20 on their helmets for the remainder of the season.

The hockey scholarship is sponsored by The San Diego Youth Hockey Booster Club, which supports all the youth hockey teams at the San Diego Ice Arena. Supporters said they hope DeWeese and his love of hockey will live on through this scholarship, which will benefit other young players.

Donations can be made at any California Coast Credit Union branch, at the pro shop in the San Diego Ice Arena, or by mailing it to: San Diego Youth Booster Club (SDYHBC), 9921 Carmel Mountain Road, Suite 168, San Diego, CA 92129. Checks should be made out to the SDYHBC's Anthony DeWeese Hockey Scholarship Fund.

Man struck by car after exiting bus

A 59-year-old male was struck by a car on Dec. 16 at 5:37 a.m. on the corner of Genesee Avenue and Noble Drive. He had exited a bus and was attempting to cross the street behind the bus. The driver of an Acura Integra saw the victim but was unable to brake in time. The victim suffered major head trauma and was transported to a nearby hospital. The city's Traffic Division is investigating.

La Jollans spearhead remodel of Fire Station 9

The firefighters' commitment to protecting San Diego has not gone unseen by Sally and Greg Ricchiuti, who have, in turn, dedicated themselves to sprucing up the living quarters at Fire Station Number 9 on the corner of Torrey Pines and Ardath roads.

"[The firefighters'] accommodations are ridiculous," Sally Ricchiuti said. "There's no bedding, pillows or privacy. They only have shower curtains separating their beds."

The Ricchiutis held a fund-raiser for the fire station on Nov. 5 at their home on La Jolla Scenic Drive South with a guest appearance from fashion designer Tory Burch, who plans to open a store in La Jolla.

The philanthropists intend to use the in-kind and monetary donations to first remodel the dormitory into private rooms and provide new mattresses, and then to tackle the kitchen, carpeting and paint needs.

Sally Ricchiuti was urged to support her local fire station after friends had to evacuate their house during the Witch Creek fire in 2007. The couple also gained a deep appreciation for the bravery of firefighters after they lost a close friend in the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks on the World Trade Center.

By STEPHEN WALLACE, M.S. Ed.

The start of a new year often brings with it a resolve to try something new, fix something old, or tackle a problem too long left unsolved. Imagine what the start of a new decade could offer.

A specific problem that has long suffered from vast national equivocation has been one that involves the health and safety of young people: underage drinking.

Curious, given a concerted federal effort to curb underage drinking. The Interagency Coordinating Committee on the Prevention of Underage Drinking (ICCPUD), which is chaired by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, supports a range of programs.

That effort, among others, seems to have made some progress. But progress may be slowing — meaning it's time to revisit the issue and the role all adults play (or don't play) in realizing the goals set out in a report from the National Research Council and Institute of Medicine of the National Academies ("Reducing Underage Drinking: A Collective Responsibility") — a critical research-based book and call to action that got the ball rolling.

According to new Monitoring the Future data from the University of Michigan, a long-term gradual decline in alcohol use among 8th-, 10th-, and 12th-graders has leveled off, with the trend continuing for only the 8th-graders.

Similar results were found for binge drinking, defined as the consumption of five (for men, four for women) or more drinks in a row at least once in the previous two weeks.

This is not encouraging news given what we know about youth and alcohol.

For example, the Institute of Medicine of the National Academies estimates the annual cost of underage drinking at $53 billion in losses from traffic deaths, violent crime and other destructive behavior. When it comes to older adolescents, Teens Today research from SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) reveals that by 12th grade more than three in four teens are drinking.

The Center for Substance Abuse Research (CESAR) notes that 85 percent of 17-year-old drinkers get drunk at least once in a typical month.

And then there's college. In February 2009, a survey of 6,608 students at the University of Wisconsin revealed:

“... 85 percent of 17-year-old drinkers get drunk at least once in a typical month.”

- 33 percent of respondents reported that they have missed classes due to alcohol;
- 24 percent of respondents reported they had unprotected sex due to alcohol; and
- 49 percent of respondents reported doing something while drinking alcohol they later regretted.

So pervasive is college drinking that teens in SADD-related focus groups cite preparing for it as a primary reason for drinking in high school.

Ralph Hingson of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism points out some of the same as well as other alcohol-related consequences for college students:

- Death: 1,700 die each year from alcohol-related unintentional injuries, including motor vehicle crashes.

- Injury: 599,000 are unintentionally injured under the influence of alcohol.

- Assault: More than 696,000 people are assaulted by another student who has been drinking.

- Sexual abuse: More than 97,000 are victims of alcohol-related sexual assault or date rape.

- Unsafe sex: 400,000 have unprotected sex and more than 100,000 report having been too intoxicated to know if they consented to having sex.

- Academic problems: About 25 percent of students report academic consequences of their drinking, including missing class, falling behind, doing poorly on exams or papers, and receiving lower grades overall.

- Drunk driving: 2.1 million drive under the influence of alcohol each year.

And yet the problem of alcohol use on or around college campuses continues to be a polarizing issue, with some in higher education advocating for lowering the minimum legal drinking age (poof ... the “problem” then disappears) while prevention experts insist that the law saves lives and serves as an effective deterrent (SADD research points to the 21-year-old minimum legal drinking age as the number one reason those younger don't drink).

Similarly, researchers at the Washington University School of Medicine credit the current law for a decline in binge drinking among 12- to 20-year-old males (females are not doing as well), although they found that college students of both genders are binge drinking more.

Knowing the scale and the cost of the problem, all Americans can begin the new decade with a renewed sense of urgency to pursue proven effective strategies to reduce underage drinking at college ... and before. A good start, as with other problems, is acknowledging that one exists. Many colleges that have cite declines in underage and high-risk drinking among students.

The time to equivocate ran out when the ball dropped at midnight on Dec. 31.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Turn condos into HUD-run housing

There's an old saying about a guy deciding to drain the swamp, which then becomes inundated with alligators. When San Diego allowed thousands of new housing units Downtown, that was a blessing for construction workers, commerce and developers and potentially for property-tax revenue. But the city also got rid of most of the inexpensive housing, used by the hotel maids, janitors, bartenders, cab drivers, cooks and the elderly and disabled.

It ended the housing shortage but created an affordability problem. It also increased the number of homeless ("alligators" in the analogy). Few jobs pay enough to buy a condo Downtown. And if wealthy retirees should [want to] live there, how many of them lost money in stocks and scams and can no longer afford to do so?

I want to see the tens of thousands of vacant residences Downtown run by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development -- the tenant pays $200 a month and the federal government another $800 a month. To help this happen, I propose a real estate tax of $2,000 per month on each vacant unit.

That would help San Diego pay its bills without dreadful cuts [in services]. After all, government spending cuts are the only thing that causes an economic depression. You think you got lots of alligators now? Keep draining the swamp, and your leg will get bitten with a 45 percent unemployment rate!

Rows of vintage and collector cars are lined up at Scripps Park for last year's La Jolla Motor Car Classic. This year's event is Jan. 10. VILLAGE NEWS | DON BALCH

CAR CLASSIC

"It gives the Historical Society an opportunity to expand its activities and its demographic appeal to more La Jollans and different types of La Jollans," Bolthouse said. "Hopefully to get younger people interested in more of the things that we're doing while still being consistent with our mission to champion and advocate for the preservation of all things historic."

Bolthouse said he will be satisfied if the Historical Society breaks even on the Motor Car Classic, since this is the organization's first year running the event. Bolthouse said he's working to market the car show internationally and expects thousands of people to turn out. Like last year, there will be a $25 charge to attend Sunday's car show or $20 to purchase tickets online. Last year, Promote La Jolla earned $6,939 from the event and donated $5,000 to the Monarch School. In 2008, Promote La Jolla posted a $12,140 loss.

The line-up

Car exhibit: The automobile festivities begin at the Wisteria Cottage, 780 Prospect St., where the Historical Society's latest exhibition tells the history of the automobile in La Jolla through images and maps. The exhibit is free and open to the public every Thursday and Friday from noon to 4 p.m. through Feb. 20.

Shelby highlight: Colin Comer, author of "The Complete Book of Shelby Automobiles," and Phil Remington, a chief engineer of the Shelby Cobra, will host a reception at the Wisteria Cottage and then proceed to Warwick's Books for a lecture and book-signing on Jan. 8 from 5 to 8 p.m. Warwick's Books is located at 7812 Girard Ave. Admission is free.

Vintage car parade: Sixty vintage automobiles will parade by Wisteria Cottage on their way to Scripps Park on Saturday, Jan. 9 from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The public is invited to bring lawn chairs and watch from the Wisteria lawn.

Movie: "The Worlds' Fastest Indian" film starring Anthony Hopkins tells the story of the 1967 world land-speed record set by 68-year-old Burt Munro on an Indian motorcycle, which will be on display at the La Jolla Motor Car Classic. The movie will play on Saturday, Jan. 9 at 3 p.m. at the La Jolla Library, 7555 Draper Ave.

Tickets for the Motor Car Classic cost $20 in advance or $25 at the door. For more information, visit www.lajollamotorcarclassic.com. ■

UCSD student walks the homeless walk

By ADRIANE TILLMAN | VILLAGE NEWS

Shanelle Sherlin sat on the corner of Front Street downtown near the I-5 ramp dressed in warm, mismatched clothes next to a small cardboard sign that read, "Please help!"

Sherlin is actually a sophomore at the University of California, San Diego (UCSD) and a Los Angeles debutante, but she had decided to spend 12 hours playing the role of a young homeless person and speaking to those who actually live on the streets. She had taken to the streets for a visual arts project in which she had been commissioned to do something that would draw reactions from others.

"It was really embarrassing," Sherlin said. "Most people would glance down at me but not pay attention. If I made eye contact with them, they would turn away. One guy pulled his son away from me. It was really sad to see the reactions of people around. No one was courteous. Most people would give me dirty looks. I'm not saying everyone had to stop by to have a good conversation, but it was really hurtful to see what homeless people have to deal with every day."

Sherlin managed to collect $27 within a few hours after someone stopped to help her and she explained she was actually a college student. He gave her $20. Sherlin collected three bags of bottles and cans, and donated all her earnings to the homeless.

She spent time speaking with various people living on the streets, including one 50-year-old who had earned a degree from a reputable college but lost his business after he was disabled in a car accident.

"I heard their stories," Sherlin said. "I asked them how they ended up on the streets, and what it was like to live like this. A lot of them do develop alcohol and drug problems on the streets but it's not necessarily how they got there... They were happy just to have someone to talk to since they are lonely all the time."

Sherlin sat on the street, collected bottles and spoke with the homeless from 3 p.m. to midnight on Saturday, and then returned for a few hours on Sunday to hear more stories.

A male friend kept watch over her from a bus bench close by and shot photos of her for the visual arts project.

Sherlin is the philanthropy chair at Sigma Kappa, and she hopes to inspire her sorority sisters to undertake a similar project. She is working toward a degree in communications and dreams of becoming a broadcast journalist.

"The point was for me to get a feeling for how [homeless] people live each day," Sherlin said. "You never really know unless you're in their position."

"If I made eye contact with them, they would turn away."

OBITUARIES

Arthur Bell, 89; financial analyst

Arthur Richardson Bell, 89, died peacefully in his La Jolla home on Dec. 19.

Bell was born on March 7, 1920 in Toledo, Ohio to Arthur Timothy and Ruby Richardson Bell.

Bell graduated from Choat Preparatory School and attended Brown University and Babson Business College where he studied accounting. He was a 1st lieutenant in the Army Air Force during World War II and served as a bombardier in the South Pacific.

After the war, Bell worked as a sales representative for Willey's Overland Jeep Co. In 1951 he moved his family to La Jolla, and began a career as a stockbroker with Scudder, Stevens and Clark. Bell served as a pension fund manager for the City of San Diego in the 1960s and '70s, and subsequently as an investment counselor for the remainder of his professional life. He was a longtime member of the Financial Analyst Society.

Some of Bell's community service included serving as one of the founding board members of La Jolla Country Day School, and serving on the board of directors for Scripps Clinic and the San Diego Zoo. He also was a 50-plus-year member of the La Jolla Beach and Tennis Club.

Bell married Suzanne Baker in Toledo on May 23, 1943.

Arthur Bell

The Bells had four children: Grace, Kathryn, Cynthia and Arthur R. Jr. (Richie) Bell. Bell's wife, Suzanne, daughter Kathryn and son Rich predeceased Bell. He is survived by his daughters Grace Bell Parsons and Cynthia Bell Niermann; Grace Bell's children, Debra and John Patterson; and Cynthia Bell's children, Sunshine Rhone and Noah K. Harris; and seven great-grandchildren.

A memorial service for Bell will be held on Saturday, Jan. 9 at 2 p.m. at El Camino Memorial Park Chapel at 5600 Carroll Canyon Road in Sorrento Valley. A Celebration of Life will follow at the La Jolla Beach and Tennis Club from 4 to 7 p.m., located at 2000 Spindrift Drive.

Donations in lieu of flowers may be made to Scripps Clinic Cardiology Department, the American Veterans Association and the San Diego Zoo.

Joan Marie Stevens, 81; philanthropist

Joan Marie Stevens left a legacy for local healthcare by trading in her beloved real estate to fund the Scripps Cancer Center, Stevens Division, at Scripps Memorial Hospital La Jolla in honor of her younger brother, who was diagnosed with cancer in 1985. A resident of La Jolla, Stevens died Dec. 22 at the age of 81.

Stevens started her career in the travel business at Chicago's Sherman Hotel until she discovered the charming, historic village of Long Grove, 35 miles northwest of Chicago, in 1967. She eventually purchased several properties there and ran a fashion boutique for 18 years. Stevens moved to La Jolla in 1976. Nine years later, as her brother underwent treatment for cancer, Stevens happened upon an article in a Scripps Health mailing about planned giving and decided to donate two of her Long Grove properties to build the Scripps Cancer Center, Stevens Division. Stevens had also begun volunteering at Scripps to earn her 1,000-hour pin. In 1999, she was honored with a Spirit of Scripps Award.

Stevens moved from La Jolla to Scottsdale, Ariz., in 1984 but eventually returned after the death of her brother and 13 Arizona summers.

Born in Milwaukee, Stevens grew up on Chicago's North Shore in Highland Park and Barrington. She graduated high school from the Ethel

Joan Stevens

Walker School, in Simsbury, Connecticut, spending her college years at the Connecticut College for Women and graduating from the University of Wisconsin in 1950.

A life member of Scripps Auxiliary, Stevens served on the board of Scripps Cancer Center, Stevens Division, and the Scripps Cancer Center's planning and development council. She was also a member of the Scripps Memorial Hospital La Jolla's Heritage Circle, the Heritage Guild of the Zoological Society and the San Diego Humane Society's Heritage Circle. In addition, Stevens was a member of La Jolla Country Club, La Jolla Republican Women, La Jolla Woman's Club and St. Germaine Children's Charities.

There are no survivors of Stevens. At her request, there will be no services, but donations may be made to the Scripps Cancer Center, Stevens Division, P.O. Box 2669, La Jolla, CA 92038. ■

Wolfgang's Gang, Friends and Voices, and a Jewel Box of Art

Starry, starry nights

Now, as the winter holidays have wound down and we are returning to some semblance of normalcy (at least until the credit card statements arrive...), it's fun to look back at a few of the parties that brightened our busy December.

Mainly Mozart hosts several events each year for their elite support group, Club Amadeus. This year, their holiday party was held at an unusual venue: the Ronald McDonald House, near Children's Hospital in the Kearney Mesa area. The facility provides a home away from home for children and their families while the child is being treated for serious, often life-threatening illnesses at San Diego hospitals. It is also quite a pleasant and beautiful place, with 47 bright guest rooms and comfortable, welcoming indoor and outdoor spaces. The Club Amadeus party took place in the Great Room, where chef Ron McMillan and Catering Solutions served refreshing libations and foods that were not just tasty, but also quite attractive to the eye. Following the reception was a boffo one-man concert performance by widely acclaimed, award-winning cellist Robert DeMaine (who was also celebrating his "second 39th birthday" that day, he explained). The afternoon concluded with delicious desserts, coffee and conversation. Club Amadeus members always enjoy these elegant events, which they attend free of charge in recognition of their support of Mainly Mozart's educational programs. Become a member, and you'll be a part of it too!

The Country Friends, headquartered in Rancho Santa Fe, draws members from the greater San Diego area, including many from La Jolla. The group's 14th annual Holiday Tea was held at CF's Village Consignment Shop. Local vendors offered clothing, jewelry and holiday gifts, and the tea featured delicious sandwiches and beautifully decorated desserts. The philanthropic organization is famed its annual "Art of Fashion" show, and funds from that September event were presented to this year's beneficiary, Voices for Children — a local nonprofit organization assisting abused, neglected and abandoned children who have become dependents of our county's court system. Voices for Children works to ensure that these children will have a safe and permanent home.

The Timken Museum of Art — that fine jewel box of art in Balboa Park, right next door to the larger San Diego Museum of Art — treated its members and friends to a very elegant holiday party, amid a collection of art masterworks that includes the only Rembrandt paintings on public display in San Diego. The black tie event also featured Russian-inspired hors d'oeuvres, including blinis and caviar; wine and champagne; and a traditional holiday tree bedecked with more than 1,000 San Diego-influenced handmade ornaments designed by artists Elizabeth Schlappi and the late Florence Hord. More and more La Jollans (and San Diegans in general) have been "discovering" the Timken's delights since executive director John Wilson took the reins just over a year ago. It's a wonderful place to visit — and admission is free to everyone.

Life is sweet for 'Toughest Girl,' singer Candye Kane

By BART MENDOZA | VILLAGE NEWS

Candye Kane, who performs at Humphrey's Backstage Lounge on Jan. 9, might well be San Diego's greatest musical ambassador. On the road worldwide for up to 250 dates a year, Kane has led an amazing life.

A songwriter, playwright, former adult film star and activist, her biggest challenge to date has been a 2008 bout with a neuroendocrine tumor, which sidelined her for several months. She has been able to overcome the disease, however, ramping up her live performances to a level even more intense than was true before her illness. It all lends credence to the title of her first play, "The Toughest Girl Alive."

Though Kane is a mainstay of local stages and has played the Humphrey's outdoor summer festival stage numerous times — opening for the likes of the Temptations — she hasn't performed at the Backstage Lounge in well over a decade.

Kane arrived in San Diego in 1986, following love and her soon-to-be first husband south from Los Angeles. She released her first album "Burlesque Swing" the following year, setting in motion a career now 10 albums and countless compilations deep.

While Kane is known today for her blues singing, she started out at the opposite end of the musical spectrum: opera.

"I had a scholarship when I was 14 to the USC music conservatory," Kane said. "It was their junior music program for people who didn't have money. They wanted me to sing opera then."

"My teacher was really into it and gave me lots of records at the time — Maria Callas, Beverley Sills, et cetera. But I really wasn't into it — I like singing the songs I heard on radio."

She said her first key influence was Linda Ronstadt.

"Once I discovered her, I discovered writers like Hank Williams Senior and Lowell George," Kane said. "From that, I started discovering different types of music."

The blues were still a little ways off, as Kane first made a stop as a country singer with her debut group, The Armadillo Stampede, alongside noted guitarist Will Ray, later of the Hellcasters. Kane scored a record deal with CBS, only to lose it when the company began to make demands.

"I lost the deal because I wouldn't lose weight or compromise my integrity by lying about my past," Kane said. "I preferred to be honest, and the price I paid was I lost my $150,000 deal with CBS. But honesty was very important to me."

Though that was definitely a low point in Kane's career, she said ultimately it was the right decision.

"I feel like I did the right thing," Kane said. "Right after that, I found my home in the blues. And right after that, I ended up pregnant with my son Tommy, who is now 21."

While Kane today has a dedicated fanbase in the U.S., it's in Europe where she has made the biggest impact.

"I think Europeans, in general, love American roots music," Kane said. "Also, music and art are irreplaceable elements of cultural life in Europe. It's really important to them to bring their children and grandchildren and their grandparents and parents to live music shows, and it's a far more inclusive family event to see shows."

"There is also no bar age, so you can go in a bar with your parents or family members and see live music. It makes music more of an interactive thing, and I think that's partially why Americans tend to be successful in Europe."

Upcoming plans for Kane include a new production of "The Toughest Girl Alive," set for this fall at the Moxie Theatre, along with more recording. But touring will take a large part of her time over the next 12 months.

"'Superhero' is only six months old, so we'll be working hard promoting that for another year," Kane said. "Our plan is to make another record in 2010. I'm doing collaborations with musician Skip Heller."

She is also nominated for three national Blues Foundation Awards — "Entertainer of the Year," "Best Blues Contemporary Female Singer" and "Best Blues Album" for her album "Superhero."

Kane acknowledges that dealing with her tumor has made things slightly more difficult for her, but she said she's up to the challenge.

"Cancer was a blessing for me," Kane said. "It really has changed the way I view my life and my relationship with food. I think about that a lot now."

Candye Kane will perform Jan. 9 at Humphrey's Backstage Lounge.

Kane still belts out the blues with fervor in concert, but she notes that there has been a subtle change in the audience since her cancer struggle was revealed.

"My show has taken on a healing element," Kane said. "People come and share stories about their own cancer situation. It's like cancer's a dirty word or something."

"People come up and thank me all the time and go, 'Thank you so much for being honest and talking about it.' Why would I not talk about it? It's my life. It would be strange to not talk about it when everybody knows."

Despite the rough road she's traveled — particularly over the past two years — Kane said she is more thrilled than ever to be making music.

"I feel really lucky to be alive," Kane said. "So every day that I am blessed to open my mouth and make music is amazing."

Kane performs Saturday, Jan. 9 at 9:30 p.m. at Humphrey's Backstage Lounge, 2241 Shelter Island Drive. Tickets are $12. The show is for those 21 and up. For information, visit www.candyekane.com. ■

LJCD booters go 1-0-2 at Oceanside tourney

The La Jolla Country Day (LJCD) School boys soccer team saw action over the holidays at the Oceanside Nautical Cup, finishing 1-0-2 in the process.

In its opener, LJCD battled Valley Center to a 0-0 tie. The next contest saw LJCD tally a 2-1 win over Carlsbad, as Dennis Roth gave the Torreys the lead on a header off a direct kick by Alex Fleischhacker. LJCD then went up 2-0 on a breakaway goal by Ryan French off a pass by Lee Klitzner.

Goalkeeper Mical Bailey had the best game of his career, according to LJCD head coach Jerry Fleischhacker, while Klitzner was also stellar as sweeper. Alex Fleischhacker, Roth, Philip Poyhonen and Alistair Dobke also played great defense, while Brian Trausch and freshman Carlos Romero had stellar games in their first extended opportunities to play this season.

"A great win against a quality Division I opponent as we were missing four starters," Jerry Fleischhacker noted.

LJCD finished tourney play with a 2-2 tie against Southwest High (Southwest advances by scoring in second OT, but the game was counted by CIF as a tie).

Roth scored his eighth and ninth goals of the season to lead LJCD. ■

LJCD, Bishop's girls dunk competition

By DAVE THOMAS | VILLAGE NEWS

The La Jolla Country Day (LJCD) School girls basketball team ended 2009 on a high note by capturing the Orange Division Championship of the NIKE Tournament of Champions in Phoenix.

The NIKE tournament is universally regarded as the most prestigious prep basketball event in the world and considered the de facto national championship for American girls basketball. The Tournament of Champions has produced 10 of the last 12 USA Today National Champions and hosted 84 State Champions since 1996.

LJCD's Ariana Elegado was named Tournament MVP of the Orange Division.

The Lady Torreys went 3-0 in the NIKE Tournament of Champions II, defeating a tough Mills Creek team out of Georgia, 37-31, in their opener. Teesha Solomon led the team with 16 points, eight rebounds and five steals. Kaylah Miller finished with eight points and four steals and Elegado added seven points and four assists.

In its next game, LJCD defeated Chandler (Az.), 63-50. Elegado led the way with 16 points and five assists and Kelsey Plum added 14 points and seven rebounds. The 5-foot-10-inch Hood twin towers dominated the boards; Malina Hood finished with a double-double, 11 points and 10 rebounds, and Maya Hood finished with nine points and 10 rebounds. Kaylah Miller chipped in with eight points to lead a balanced effort.

In the title game, LJCD scored points, four rebounds and a pair of steals.

Elsewhere, The Bishop's School enters play this week with a record of 13-2 following action in the recent Vaquero Invitational.

Bishop's scored wins over Venice High (Los Angeles) 91-36, (W) and Carson (72-55).

After posting a 62-52 victory over Alameda, Bishop's moved into play in the Holiday Premier Showcase, scoring several wins before an 83-47 loss to Mount Miguel.

One of the tourney wins was an 84-18 victory over neighboring La Jolla, as Elaina White paced Bishop's with 25 points.

"We're off to a great start this season," Bishop's School head coach Marlon Wells said. "The team is playing tremendous defense, and any given night we can have a different leading scorer. We are looking forward to starting league play and defending our conference title from last year."

White has been playing well for the Lady Knights, while Alissa Campanero has been leading the team as the starting point guard, averaging nearly 10 assists per game.

a 47-43 victory over Xavier Prep (Az.).

The Lady Torreys jumped out to a 16-5 first-quarter lead and were up 28-18 at the half. Xavier made a second-half push, but with tough defense and outstanding rebounding LJCD withstood the Gators' run.

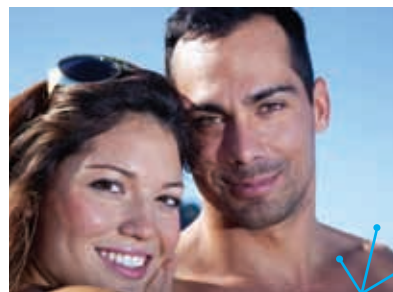

Elegado led the scoring with 12 points and five assists, and Plum added 10 points.

Maya Hood chipped in nine points, four steals and dominated the boards with 13 rebounds. Malina Hood finished with eight

Hot Bolts rest during round one playoffs

By DAVE THOMAS | VILLAGE NEWS

The San Diego Chargers got their 13th win of the season Sunday and Washington head coach Jim Zorn got a pink slip. So much for another day in the NFL.

Backup QB Billy Volek directed the Chargers on a game-winning drive in the final minutes, as San Diego ended regular season play with a 23-20 win over the visiting Redskins. San Diego has a bye in the first round of the AFC playoffs and will next be in action the weekend of Jan. 16-17.

After losing three of their first five games, the Chargers went on an incredible 11-game winning streak to secure the second spot in the AFC playoffs behind Indianapolis.

Down 20-16 late in the game, Volek hit Buster Davis for an 11-yard pass that got the Chargers inches short of the goal line, before hitting fullback Mike Tolbert on the game-winning score.

While a number of starters did see action Sunday, like Philip Rivers (9-of-15, 99 yards), LaDainian Tomlinson and Nate Kaeding, the inactive list was pretty lengthy and included the likes of Shawne Merriman, Vincent Jackson, Eric Weddle and Jacques Cesaire.

The Chargers bolted to a 10-0 lead after their first two possessions and Rivers hit the bench for Volek, who hadn't seen significant playing time since leading the winning drive in a 28-24 divisional-round playoff victory at Indianapolis two years ago.

"It felt good to get hit again," Volek stated. "For my group to go out there and perform at a high level and go against some good guys, it was good. Nobody panicked."

San Diego, which never panicked after the season got off to a rough start, jumped ahead on Kaeding's 47-yard field goal and Rivers' 12-yard scoring strike to Pro Bowl tight end Antonio Gates.

While the game had no consequences in the standings, it was icing on the cake for what many fans knew ahead of time.

On Monday morning, the Redskins announced that Zorn was being let go, as the team stumbled to a 4-12 record.

Zorn compiled a 12-20 record over two seasons, but he dropped 18 of his last 24 games following a 6-2 start in 2008. The Redskins faltered early despite a weak schedule this season and finished with their worst record since 1994.

Venerable Cottage undergoes renovation

By ADRIANE TILLMAN | VILLAGE NEWS

La Jollans hungry to dig into some eggs Benedict are in for a surprise if they're heading for the historic yellow cottage on Fay Avenue: it is now the color of a nickel.

The 105-year-old cottage, a popular spot for breakfast and lunch, underwent a two-month renovation to become accessible to people with disabilities. The patio was leveled and new tables enable a wheelchair to slide underneath. A lift now transports wheelchairs to the second level for people to use the ADA-compliant bathrooms.

The cottage was under construction for a month and then closed for another month so the owners decided to renovate from top to bottom. The restaurant is a historical site formerly named the Columbine Cottage that was built in 1904 and moved from Prospect Street to its current location on Fay Avenue in 1914.

make the place great — that is, caught up to 2010,” said Jason Peaslee, a partner with owners John and Laura Wolfe, former locals who now live in Boston.

Hawkins Construction of La Mesa was contracted to remove the logs the cottage had rested upon and replace them with new support posts. The electrical circuits and plumbing were replaced. The building was even moved 20 inches. Appliances were replaced with energy-efficient devices. David Robinson Design Inc. of Bird

Huskers give Wildcats a threshing in Holiday Bowl

By ANTHONY GENTILE | VILLAGE NEWS

In one of the most dominant performances in Holiday Bowl history, the University of Nebraska controlled the game from the opening possession and never looked back. The No. 22 Huskers rolled to a 33-0 victory over No. 20 University of Arizona on Dec. 30 at Qualcomm Stadium.

"Finishing with a win makes it pretty special," Nebraska head coach Bo Pelini said. "We took the momentum early, and I thought we executed our plan from start to finish. It was a complete win against a really good football team."

Nebraska won the opening coin toss and deferred, putting their defense on the field. On the game's third play from scrimmage, Huskers defensive back Matt O'Hanlon intercepted a pass from Arizona quarterback Nick Foles and returned it to the Wildcats' five-yard line.

"That was a huge way to start the game," Pelini said. "It set the tone for the rest of the game."

Two plays after the interception, Nebraska quarterback Zac Lee ran for a four-yard touchdown for the game's opening score. Lee's score came 1 minute and 15 seconds in, the fastest score in Holiday Bowl history.

Nose tackle Ndamukong Suh and the Huskers defense dominated the rest of the first half, keeping Arizona off the scoreboard and holding the Wildcats offense to 32 yards and just one first down. Arizona's spread attack could not find a rhythm.

"They did everything we expected them to do," Foles said. "It just came down to them out-playing us."

On the other side of the ball, the Nebraska offense that came in ranked 102nd in total offense could seemingly do no wrong. The Huskers got points on five of their six drives in the first half and led 23-0 at intermission.

"We came out there and showed them that we can play ball," Nebraska receiver Niles Paul said. "Everybody doubted the offense but we just wanted the opportunity to go out there and show them what we can and will do."

On the opening drive of the third quarter, Nebraska drove deep into Arizona territory and Huskers kicker Alex Henery nailed his Holiday Bowl record fourth field goal of the game. After a Wildcats punt, the Huskers put an exclamation on their victory when Lee found Paul for a 74-yard touchdown strike midway through the third quarter.

"The corner was biting on a lot of the short routes and he was just sitting there," Paul said. "We talked to coach about running a double move route and it worked."

Nebraska's 396 yards of offense would be more than enough for their defense. The Huskers black-shirt defense kept Arizona off the scoreboard, recording the first shutout in Holiday Bowl history.

"We wanted the opportunity to do that," Suh said. "It's a great offense that we went against, but we're a great defense as well. We wanted to hold them to (limited) yardage and hopefully keep them out of the end zone. That was a part of our game plan."

Nebraska (10-4) won its fourth straight bowl game and first Holiday Bowl, having lost to Arizona in 1999 in their only previous appearance here. In the win Dec.

30, the Huskers played their most complete game of the season.

"I think this program has come a long way," Pelini said. "Where we are right now, we can compete with anybody in the United States. I'm excited about the future of this."

Arizona (8-5) finished with eight wins for the second season in a row, including victories over University of Southern California and Stanford University. The Wildcats are 1-1 all-time in the Holiday Bowl, with this trip result-

Party, mixer on tap
for Triangle Chamber

On Dec. 9, the Golden Triangle Chamber of Commerce held its Holiday Mixer in the beautiful Indulge East at the Embassy Suites Hotel. Chef David Kraus and Nick-ole Valdov, food and beverage director, ensured it was a night to remember. More than 50 delighted guests enjoyed a delicious dinner buffet of salmon, shrimp and other delicacies while networking and making new friends.

The first mixer of the New Year will be Wednesday, Jan. 13 at the Miami Grille. The Grille is always fun and the food is great so they expect a great turn-out. See the Chamber Website for details, www.GoldenTriangleChamber.Com.

On Dec. 17, the Chamber held its annual meeting to elect its board of directors for 2010. George Schmall of Financial BodyGuards will continue to serve as chairman of the board. Lamar Byrd of Lamari Optimal Health will be the vice chair; Michael Leonard of San Diego Corporate Law will be exec-

Peaslee declined to disclose the cost of the renovation.

"It cost a lot," he said.

Peaslee raved about his experience with Hawkins Construction and said even the city was helpful during the permitting process.

"This is as smooth as it gets," Peaslee said.

The Cottage will continue its practice of offering breakfast and lunch during the winter and opening the restaurant for dinner in the summer. Peaslee expects to host more special events, however, since the patio has been revamped.

Whether or not residents warm to the new color is yet to be seen.

"People are sort of freaking out [about the color]," Peaslee said. "People have told me, 'The yellow cottage had better come back.'" able," general manager Bruce Allen said in a statement released by the team. "I felt it was necessary to not waste a moment of time to begin building this team into a winner."

For San Diego, however, a new season is just dawning as the surging Chargers look for a playoff run to Miami and the Super Bowl on Feb. 7.

FIFTH QUARTER: The announced crowd was just over 67,000, although it sure seemed like there were a lot more empty seats to be found. Lots of Washington fans in attendance, but the results proved all too familiar for those wearing maroon and gold. The AFC playoffs are set for this coming weekend with New England hosting Baltimore and Cincinnati playing host to the Jets. Pittsburgh, the defending Super Bowl champ, was left on the sidelines for this year's playoffs. ■

Husker West comes home for Holiday Bowl

By ANTHONY GENTILE | VILLAGE NEWS

The Holiday Bowl doubled as a homecoming for University of Nebraska defensive back Anthony West. The former Point Loma High School football standout saw action at cornerback in the fourth quarter and deflected a pass on the final drive of the game to preserve the Huskers' shutout in the 33-0 win over the University of Arizona.

"It means a lot just because it's home," West said. "I grew up here and spent all of my life here. It's special coming back and being able to play in a game like this."

West had numerous friends and family members in attendance for Nebraska's game against Arizona. He said he divvied out 45 tickets for the game.

"A lot of friends and a lot of family were there," West said. "I had to round up a lot of tickets to make sure I took care of the people that were asking for some."

After starting 10 games at cornerback for the Huskers in 2008, West came into the 2009 season as the incumbent starter. After starting the first five games of the season, he lost his job to sophomore Alfonzo Dennard and has played a reserve role in the secondary while keeping his famed blackshirt practice jersey that denotes first-team status.

"It's been something you got to get used to. Competition in the secondary has been strong," West said. "You have a lot of good guys back there and you just have to come every day and work hard."

The Holiday Bowl was not West's first time playing Qualcomm Stadium. He also appeared at the home of the Chargers as a member of Point Loma's 2005 football team that lost to St. Augustine in the Division III section finals.

"That's one of the first things I thought about once I knew we were going to the Holiday Bowl – how it's crazy that I played there in high school," West said. "It seems like it was just yesterday."

West was one of seven Californians in his recruiting class and one of three San Diegans on the Huskers' current roster. He said even in his fourth year living in Lincoln that he is still adjusting to the change in climate.

"The main thing is that the snow and the wind out there is really bad," West said. "We just left a blizzard. We got about 10 to 12 inches of snow in a matter of a half a day."

Former Point Loma High football star Anthony West, now a defensive back for the University of Nebraska, warms up at Qualcomm Stadium where his team met U of Arizona Dec. 30 for the Holiday Bowl.

Other than the nice weather, West said what he misses most about Point Loma is being with his friends and family.

"[I miss] just being around all my friends, everybody I played with and my family – just being at home," West said. "It's a great city, a great part of town and I just miss it." ■

K9 PHYSICAL THERAPY/REHAB CUTTING EDGE K9 REHAB <http://www.cuttingedgek9.com> Cutting Edge K9 Rehab Has Been Featured On Local And National News, Radio And A Number Of Local Papers And Magazine Articles. Swimming is one of our strongest recommendations for most K9's. It is an ideal form of exercise for a number of reasons. Our rehab services offer assisted swimming in a warm water environment. The benefits are: • Non-weight-bearing (reducing stress on joints) • Facilitates full use of the front and hind legs vs. partial use as seen with underwater treadmills • Dogs are often able to actively swim although unable to move their legs on land (due to stroke/spinal injury) • Allows manual techniques by therapist/ manual resistance to an affected limb • Swimming in a controlled environment is the safest way for clients to exercise. • Speeds recovery following injury/surgery • Improves function and quality of life • Works reciprocal muscle groups throughout the session (helps correct muscle imbalances) • Reduces pain and inflammation • Reduces canine obesity thus decreasing the risk of other health-related problems • Increases strength, range of motion (ROM) and cardiovascular conditioning • Prevents overheating through proper water temperature • Increases tolerance for extended cardiovascular training • Decreases recovery time • Reduces post-exercise soreness • Provides good cross training for the competitive, athletic dog (619) 227-7802

HARRY

She is a fun 5-month baby Boxer/Shepherd mix looking for a family of her own. She is quite small for a 5 months, so we think she may have some terrier or small dog mixed in there! She is brindle with a long snout and saddle. She is very well behaved and learning basic commands. Cookie is spayed, vaccinated and micro-chipped. She is in a foster home with kids and dogs and would do well with all of the above!

Please call SNAP foster at 760-815-0945

He will also be at the Muttropolis/Ark Antiques Adoption Day Sat, Nov 28th 12noon-3pm

FRIENDS OF COUNTY ANIMAL SHELTERS

Heiress is an energetic and playful black and white Terrier mix, just 2 years old and weighing 30 pounds. She is cute, wiggly, loves to run and to chase toys. Heiress will do best in either an adult-only home or a home with older children. She would be a great jogging or hiking companion. Her $69 adoption fee includes spay, vaccinations, microchip, and license. As a FOCAS spotlight dog, you can meet her at the County Animal Shelter in Carlsbad: 2481 Palomar Airport Rd. Hours are 9:30–5:30 Tues-Sat. Call 858-205-9974 or visit www.focas-sandiego.org or call 760.960.7293

SUMMONS (Family law)
NOTICE TO RESPONDENT (Name):
Louis S. Rosado
You are being sued.
Petitioner's name is:
Christina C. Rosado
CASE NUMBER: 167255
You have 30 calendar days after this Summons and Petition are served on you to file a response (form FL-120 or FL-123) at the court and have a copy served on the petitioner. A letter or phone call will not protect you.
If you do not file your Response on time, the court may make orders affecting your marriage or domestic partnership, your property, and custody of your children. You may be ordered to pay support and attorney fees and costs. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the clerk for a fee waiver form.
If you want legal advice, contact a lawyer immediately. You can get information about finding lawyers at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), or by contacting your local county bar association.

NOTICE: The restraining orders on page 2 are effective against both spouses or domestic partners until the petition is dismissed, a judgement is entered, or the court makes further orders. These orders are enforceable anywhere in California by any law enforcement officer who has received or seen a copy of them.

WARNING – IMPORTANT INFORMATION
WARNING: California law provides that, for purpose

LEGAL ADS 700

of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption.
You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property.

STANDARD FAMILY LAW RESTRAINING ORDERS Starting immediately, you and your spouse or domestic partner are restrained from
1. removing the minor child or children of the parties, if any, from the state without the prior written consent of the party or an order of the court;
2. cashing, borrowing against, canceling, transferring, disposing of, or changing the beneficiaries of any insurance or other coverage, including life, health, automobile, and disability, held for the benefit of the parties and their minor child or children; 3.transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of anyproperty, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life; and 4. creating a nonprobate transfer or modifying a nonprobate transfer in a manner that affects the disposition of property subject to the transfer, without the written consent of the party or an order of the court. before revocation of a nonprobate transfer can take effect or a right of survivorship to property can be eliminated, notice of the change must be filed and served on the other party.
You must notify each other of any proposed extraordinary expenditures at least 5 business days prior to incurring these extraordinary expenditures and account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures made after these restraining orders are effective.
However, you may use community property, quasi-community property, or your own separate property to pay an attorney to help you or to pay court costs.

a hearing. NOTICE OF HEARING TO BE HELD ON JAN 27, 2010 TIME: 8:30 AM DEPT: D-25 AT 220
WEST BROADWAY SAN DIEGO, CA. 92101
ISSUE DATE(S): DEC 23 JAN 07, 14 AND 21, 2010

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF:
OLIVER B. JAMES, aka OLIVER BURR JAMES, aka
OLIVER BURR JAMES, JR.
CASE NUMBER: 37-2009-00152628-PR-PW-CTL
1. To all heir's, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of (specify all names by which the decedent was known):
OLIVER B. JAMES, AKA OLIVER BURR JAMES AKA
OLIVER BURR JAMES, JR.

2. A Petition for Probate has been filed by: NORMA
M. JAMES in the Superior Court of California, County of : SAN DIEGO
3. The Petition for Probate requests that : NORMA M.
JAMES
be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
4. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.
5. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estate Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, the personal representativewill be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.)
The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
6. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows:
a. Date: JAN 26, 2010 Time:9:00 Dept: PC -2 Room:
b. Address of court
SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO
1409 Fourth Ave. Third Floor
San Diego, CA. 92101-3105
Central Division, Probate Court, Madge Bradley Bldg.
7. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
8. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.
9. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.
10. Attorney for petitioner:
