Lots of musicians call San Diego home. But even in a crop that includes chart toppers Jason Mraz and Blink 182, Liquid Blue is a standout.

The band is one of the best cover bands to be heard, performing award-winning, socially conscious original music. But what makes the band unique is the amount of roadwork it does, playing to ticketed crowds of up to 65,000 in over 100 countries to date, even becoming the first U.S. band signed to a Chinese label. All that jet lag has earned band members a spot in the Guinness Book of World Records, officially being dubbed the "World's Most Traveled Band."

Creek to Bay Cleanup to draw 6,000-plus helpers April 26

I Love A Clean San Diego's (ILACSD) signature event, the Creek to Bay Cleanup, is gearing up for its 12th installment on Saturday, April 26 to help restore the pristine nature of the region's waterways and beaches.

The event will run from 9 a.m. to noon as part of the national Great American Cleanup, including cleanup sites in Ocean Beach, Pacific Beach, La Jolla, Mission Beach and Mission Bay. Thousands of volunteers will gather at more than 90 coastal and inland sites around San Diego County to help preserve the local environment by cleaning and beautifying these outdoor areas.

Twelve years ago, ILACSD hosted its first Creek to Bay Cleanup with only 27 cleanup sites and 2,000 volunteers. The event has continued to grow and is now one of the biggest cleanup events of the year in San Diego County. In 2013, about 6,000 volunteers removed 100 tons of debris from their local commu-

Plans for Point Loma aquatics center site now paddling ahead

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

After years of delay, plans for a public pool at Liberty Station in Point Loma are finally beginning to move along, although proponents can't yet claim swimmingly. The city has put out a request for proposals (RFP) to seek a concessionaire to build and operate the proposed facility — a community component sought by residents for at least a decade or more.

The public's initial response to the idea was positive.

"Families for a Point Loma Swimming Pool has been working toward the development of an aquatic center in NTC Park since 2000," said Julie Cramer, spokeswoman for the grassroots group. "While the project has taken some time, the need in Point Loma and the surrounding communities for an aquatic center continues."

Cramer credited City Council District 2's last two councilmembers, Byron Wear and Kevin Faulconer, along with city staff, as having been "instrumental in keeping this project moving forward. This aquatic center offers the opportunity for people of all ages to come together and enjoy a range of swim and fitness activities. Located at NTC Park, the aquatic center will be a true community asset."

The 13th annual Point Loma Garden Walk will again showcase eight gorgeous Peninsula home gardens to raise money to support the Dana Unit of Rady Children's Hospital Auxiliary. The event will be held in Roseville, the oldest settled part of Point Loma, on Saturday, April 26 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This year's walk spotlights the select home gardens — some with interior tours — and includes a popular Garden Boutique and Dana Diamond Tour, as well as featuring a private shuttle to the gardens with lunch in a home not on the regular tour.

Dist. 2 City Council hopefuls Zapf, Boot trade barbs in advance of June 3 primary

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

City Council District 2 hopefuls Lorie Zapf and Sarah Boot jostled at a Pacific Beach Town Council (PBTC)-sponsored debate April 16, with Zapf trading on her City Council experience and Boot attacking Zapf and the city's recent performance on grass-roots issues.

Interim District 2 Councilman Ed Harris, who has taken time out from being a lifeguard to fill out the remainder of Mayor Kevin Faulconer's City Council term for the next eight months or so, introduced himself prior to the Zapf-Boot question-and-answer forum. Harris said he's "getting up to speed on a lot of issues," joking that the experience was like "drinking from a fire hose."

"I'm a regular person, just like you guys," Harris told the packed house at the Pacific Beach Woman's Club, the venue for the debate.

"I appreciate your activism," Harris told the crowd, warning them to be politically vigilant. Otherwise, he said, they run the risk of "having their quality of life adversely affected." Harris said a case in point is efforts to increase the 30-foot-height building limit in some parts of the city.

In her opening remarks, Boot — a Midway District resident, federal prosecutor and private consultant for companies like Google and Yelp — said she was running for the District 2 City Council seat in the June 3 primary because "I'm very passionate about Pacific Beach. I care so much about PB that I'm running because the neighborhood has been neglected by the city for so long."

Pointing to the recent failed attempt at planning Balboa Park's 2015 centennial celebration, Boot said, "We need more transparent leadership and accountability."

Zapf, a Bay Ho resident who has represented City Council District 6 (Claremont, Linda Vista and Kearny Mesa) since 2010, said she is proud of being "the first Latina elected to the City

Zapf said she had a tumultuous upbringing and was put into foster homes, which she said "molded me into the person I am today."

"High-quality neighborhoods and services are what I want to bring to the community," Zapf said. She added city government has made great strides in areas like managed competition and pension reform during her 3½ years on the City Council, efforts she said "are paying dividends in the form of restored services."

The debate turned testy, however, when Boot questioned Zapf on her previous stance opposing gay marriage, and on Zapf's and other council members' alleged indulgence in office "perks."

"In the past, Lorie has said homosexuality is a sin," said Boot, noting "equality is very important to me. I absolutely support the ability of gay people to marry and find love and raise families. Zapf is also the only council person who's taken an $800 a month car allowance. This has to stop."

In reply, Zapf said she now supports marriage equality, adding "my personal relationships over the past 3½ years have really shown me that gay people should have marriage equality."

Zapf then contended Boot's remarks on her office "perks" were taken out of context.

"I am the only sitting council member who has opted out of the city-defined pension system," she said. "This saves

Medical pot dispensaries line up for Midway District

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

Medical marijuana and the possibility of cooperatives coming to the Midway District, where such businesses are now allowed under a new city ordinance, was the main topic of discussion at the Midway-Pacific Highway Community Planning Group's meeting on April 16.

Thyme Curtis, chief of staff for interim District 2 City Councilman Ed Harris, answered planners' questions about the particulars of the new ordinance.

The new ordinance allows cooperatives only to be based in industrial-zoned areas, removed from residential areas, youth-oriented businesses or institutions and each other.

"Medical marijuana establishments are not allowed within 1,000 feet of schools, churches, public parks, playgrounds or minor-oriented facilities," said Curtis, who passed out a city information bulletin on how to apply for a conditional-use permit for a medical marijuana consumer cooperative.

"That means us," said planning group chairwoman Melanie Nickel.

Curtis said the number of cooperatives allowed was capped at four dispensaries per council district and that new regulations prevent them from being closer than 1,000 feet from one another or within 100 feet of a residence.

"Do they (cooperatives) have to be non-profits?" asked Nickel.

Curtis said some of the regulations are in a gray area.

"Are there any limits on who can own and run them?" quizzed Nickel.

Curtis responded that an owner cannot have a felony.

Asked why the new regulations on cooperatives restrict them to industrial zones, Curtis replied, "They picked the least offensive place they could put them where they wouldn't be near residences."

Kyle Castanon of GroCal said he and his family have been growing medical marijuana and intend to apply for a Midway District cooperative. Noting his science background, Castanon said growers like himself have been able to develop marijuana strains which are low in psychoactive tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) sought by recreational users, and high in medical properties benefiting patients.

"We want to be good neighbors and we would have to operate under stringent conditions, including having security on staff with specified operating hours from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.," he said.

Joy Greenfield, who previously owned a cooperative, said she has already filed for an application for a new cooperative that she intends to locate in the building she owns at 3421 Hancock St.

"My paperwork is done," Greenfield said. She added computer technology today allows cooperatives to closely track marijuana sold for medical purposes.

"There are many safeguards you can set up on how much and often patrons can buy," she said.

The process for prospective dispensary applicants may take on a little urgency.

"It's first-come, first-served," said Midway planner Cathy Denton.

Commercial realtor Jeff Tate warned the group that he's been getting up to 30 calls a week from cooperative owners who are being displaced by new city regulations. He said they are inquiring about available properties and wanting to relocate to the Midway District.

"It's the Wild West out here," Tate said, noting inquiries are being made by owners who've been operating cooperatives illegally until now.

nities during the three-hour event. The removal of trash is not the only focus of this annual event. Volunteers will also perform storm-drain stenciling, landscaping and graffiti removal. ILACSD hopes to engage thousands of San Diego residents to beautify and restore the local environment.

"As I Love A Clean San Diego celebrates its 60th anniversary year, it is more important than ever that our events, such as the Creek to Bay Cleanup, work to build the next generation of environmental stewards," said Pauline Martinson, executive director of I Love A Clean San Diego. "Through these cleanup efforts, volunteers young and old will be empowered to take action in preserving our local environment."

The Creek to Bay Cleanup is one of a handful of community engagement projects coordinated by ILACSD each year. The organization has been mobilizing volunteers around beautification and pollution prevention projects since 1954. Combined, volunteers remove an astounding one million pounds of debris every two years.

Cleanup sites will include beaches, bays, canyons, creek beds and urban areas throughout San Diego County from Oceanside to Tijuana, as well as Ocean Beach to Alpine. While beach and bay locations are always popular for participants, ILACSD organizers point out many other inland locations are in desperate need of help, too, because there is a strong emphasis on protecting inland communities and preventing marine pollution before it reaches local waterways.

Why 3/4 of Homesellers Don't Get the Price they Want for their Homes

SAN DIEGO, A new report has just been released which reveals 7 costly mistakes that most homeowners make when selling their home, and a 9-Step System that can help sell your home fast and for the most amount of money.

This industry report shows clearly how the traditional ways of selling homes have become increasingly less and less effective in today's market. The fact of the matter is that fully three quarters of homesellers don't get what they want for their home and become disillusioned and -worse- financially disadvantaged when they put their home on the market.

As this report uncovers, most homesellers make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars. The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable.

In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9-Step System to Get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar."

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report, call toll-free 1-800-276-0763 and enter 1000. You can call any time. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Council OKs handover of Dana fields to SDUSD

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

The City Council voted unanimously April 22 to dissolve the joint-use agreement between the city and San Diego Unified School District to administer the 3.5-acre Dana Middle School baseball field used by Point Loma High School, effectively turning oversight over to the school district.

In doing so, the City Council overrode the objections of the city's Development Services and Park and Recreation departments, which had argued that removing the 3.5 acres of population-based parkland from the Peninsula community's inventory was contrary to the city's general plan.

Several residents from Point Loma testifying before the City Council expressed

"I believe people living in the neighborhood should have been better notified. But the train has left the station and it's moving forward. This is going to be a positive experience for the baseball community and the community as a whole."

ED HARRIS

Interim District 2 City Councilman

concern that plans for Dana Field's being upgrade with synthetic turf — starting in June — will set a precedent for further expansion, which could include lighting and a sound system.

City staff and council members gave assurances that any such further field improvements would have to be thoroughly vetted up to, and including, a full environmental report.

Some residents also complained of not being properly noticed about the April 22 City Council hearing.

"I believe people living in the neighborhood should have been better notified," said interim District 2 Councilman Ed Harris. "But the train has left the station and it's moving forward. This is going to be a positive experience for the baseball community and the community as a whole."

Other councilmembers agreed.

"Kids' safety is a big issue and we have the ability now with the evolution of turf field technology to protect kids by making fields like this one safer for them," said District 9 Councilwoman Marti Emerald.

most beautiful way to support Rady Children's Hospital," said Pam Caldwell, chairwoman of Dana Unit of Rady Children's Hospital Auxiliary.

"The tour features family-friendly gardens, traditional gardens, a lush and colorful succulent garden, homes that have maximized their bay and city views and homes whose gardens join seamlessly with the interior rooms," she said.

Proceeds benefit Children's Hospital's Craniofacial Department, which diagnoses and treats complex disorders of the face and skull that can be caused by birth defect, trauma or disease.

The nature of the facial disorders often requires long-term treatment. A multi-disciplinary team approach enables highly complex surgeries to be performed. Team members include surgeons, geneticists, ophthalmologists, orthodontists, pediatric dentists, speech pathologists, social services, psychologists and audiologists.

Proceeds from the Garden Walk will assist patients who require multiple interventions, team visits to help with feeding, social services, parent education and medical management. In the past, specialized plastic surgery and microsurgical instruments have also been funded.

The homes and gardens on the Point Loma Garden Walk reflect how gardening has changed over the last 13 years.

"Gardens are no longer separate spaces but important living areas of the home," said Caldwell. "Today's gardeners have an amazing variety in plant selection and hardscapes are as important as plantings."

The annual garden tour draws local support from the Point Loma Optimist Club, Point Loma Rotary Club, Girl Scout Troop 4081 and the Point Loma Artists Association, as well as local businesses who sell tickets and advertise in a map/brochure.

Baron's Marketplace and Stumps provide complimentary water for garden walkers.

Roseville is named for its developer, San Diego pioneer Louis Rose, who bought the area in 1866, laid out streets and built a wharf and a hotel.

Many Portuguese fishermen and fishing boat owners settled in the area and it is still the focus of San Diego's large Portuguese community.

YMCA agreed that the community is pool-deficient.

"The community has been pushing for this project for the better part of 10 years," said Vince Glorioso, the YMCA's executive director.

"The city has issued an RFP for an organization to come in and develop and operate an aquatic center, leasing the 20,000-square-foot Building 619 in NTC [the former Naval Training Center], which was a child-care center," he said.

Glorioso said there could be a hitch, however, in owning/managing any new NTC aquatic center involving terms of the lease.

"There's some federal (Department of the Interior) jurisdiction over this site, so there's some argument in terms of how this lease would be held," he said. "It would actually be a concession agreement, not a typical property lease."

The pool RFP states the city is seeking a concessionaire to provide an aquatic center on the former NTC site for the use and benefit of the general public.

The proposed site design calls for an aquatic center complex with a 50-meter pool, a 25-meter instruction pool and a family area with interactive water-play elements.

The pool plan also includes locker rooms, offices, restrooms, storage and a concession stand.

The city is inviting proposals from qualified firms or individuals on the pool project, which would consist of a renovation/remodel and utilization of city-owned NTC Building 619.

Proposals must include a conceptual plan for the property, along with any proposed changes or additions to the existing facilities.

Among other things, proposals must offer a preliminary site and floor plan; a program plan providing a description of planned programs/activities and/or services, including hours of operation, proposed fees and charges; a financing plan; and assurances that the applicant can provide the necessary fixtures and equipment needed to provide aquatic center services.

Glorioso said the YMCA could be interested in bidding on the NTC pool project.

"We're reviewing the RFP to see whether it matches our objectives and to learn more in terms of what the city is seeking," Glorioso said. "It's certainly within the sphere of the YMCA's operations."

He said YMCAs currently operate more than 20 public pools countywide.

Concern has been expressed by some that, regardless of who ultimately builds the new NTC pool, that it be big enough, 50 meters not 25 meters, in order for it to be truly considered a world-class aquatic complex with the capability of hosting competitive events.

Celebrating all things Cajun at 4-day Gator by the Bay

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

Celebrate Mother's Day weekend Cajun style this year at Gator by the Bay event, the 13th annual Louisiana parade, music and food festival running from Thursday, May 8 through Sunday, May 11 at Spanish Landing Park on North Harbor Drive across from the San Diego International Airport.

The largest authentic Louisiana-themed festival west of the Mississippi features four days of live music on six stages.

Guests will enjoy a zesty gumbo of music, food and joie de vivre with 85-plus entertaining performances and culinary delights, including 10,000 pounds of fresh live crawfish straight from the Louisiana Bayou.

Presented by San Diego's Bon Temps Social Club, the festival annually hosts more than 17,000 visitors of all ages and backgrounds.

"This festival is the best way to experience the rich and exciting culture of Louisiana, aside from actually being there, of course," said Al Gardner, president of The Bon Temps Social Club of San Diego.

Since the first festival in 2001, which focused heavily on the Louisiana sound with Zydeco and Cajun bands, the festival's lineup has grown to include a wide variety of musical genres with both local and visiting musicians.

The Zydeco and Cajun artists hail from a noble legacy of American music, originating from the bayous of southwest Louisiana and the descendants of African and Caribbean immigrants. Blues acts include a wide range of blues styles from deep-rooted Delta and Chicago Blues to lively jump, jive and boogie-woogie offerings. Also on stage is a great sampling of regional and visiting bands performing gypsy jazz, salsa, western swing, rockabilly, bluegrass and traditional country.

The food, served up in the French Quarter Food Court, features the authentic tastes of Louisiana with many vendors making the cross-country trip especially for the festival.

Shoppers will delight in the carefully selected vendors participating in the crafts market that will feature art, handmade jewelry, sculptures, candles, mosaics, dancing shoes, outlandish hats, Mardi Gras-inspired festival clothing, exciting fashion accessories, musical artwork, puzzles and intriguing games.

In partnership with Gator by the Bay, the Louisiana Office of Tourism is sponsoring a free sweepstakes drawing, open to all ticket holders, for a chance to win one of two trips for two to visit Louisiana — a New Orleans trip or a trip to the Bayou country of Lafayette and Lake Charles.

O.B. Girl Scouts fete cookie successes with some summer camp adventures

Two Ocean Beach residents — Jessica Andrews of Troop 4287 and Freya Sadler, a member of Troop 1811 — made Girl Scouts San Diego's list of top cookie-sellers.

Only 31 girls in the San Diego-Imperial region achieved that ranking, by selling 2,014 boxes in 2014, collectively reaching a whopping 71,935 boxes. All cookie proceeds stay local to fund Girl Scouting activities.

As part of their reward, Jessica (who sold 2,069 boxes) and Freya (2,021 boxes) each earned a free trip to Girl Scout summer camp. They invite all girls in grades K-12 to join the fun.

Registration is now underway for Girl Scouts San Diego's 159 camps, with themes ranging from archery to zoology. Overnight or "resident" camp sessions take place at camps Winacka and Whispering Oaks in Julian; day camp locations are held countywide. All girls in elementary through high school ages are welcome, whether or not they are already Girl Scouts. Newcomers simply add $15 dues to the camp fee and enjoy Girl Scout membership through the rest of the year. Tiered rates and financial assistance make camp affordable for various income levels.

taxpayers money that can be reinvested into our city."

Boot chided Zapf and the rest of the City Council for being remiss in addressing infrastructure issues.

"I'm out on the streets talking to voters, and infrastructure problems have not been solved. People are really angry because the streets are torn up and there's no coordination," Boot said. "The city needs to look more closely at their departments to find efficiencies."

Zapf defended the city's policy of pursuing managed competition, which considers independent contractors as well as city departments to provide the most cost-efficient services.

"Managed competition is proven to work," Zapf said.

— Editor's note: City Council District 2 candidates Jim Morrison, a property manager, and Mark Schwartz, a marketer/consultant, were reportedly not invited to the forum. Each will have a separate election profile in our next edition.

"I don't have anyone anymore!"

A retired nurse who is now a widow was referred by a friend to Innovative Healthcare Consultants. She started by telling our RN Care Manager that she is all alone and worried about what will happen to her if no one is there advocating on her behalf. She never had children and even though she had good friends, they were all about her age, in their 70's and 80's.

As a nurse, she had seen patients in the hospital who didn't have anyone around to advocate for them. She dreaded the idea of developing a serious health problem and finding herself all alone. She asked the care manager for recommendations about how to find a good elder law attorney to help update her will and other estate documents. Most importantly though, she wanted to establish a relationship with a care manager who could visit her regularly, accompany her to doctor's appointments and make sure her wishes were always followed.

Call a RN Care Manager at Innovative Healthcare Consultants to help you maintain your quality of life at home. Our number is (760) 731-1334 or visit our website at www.innovativehc.com.

formed in 1996. It's a flexible lineup of seven, with an "A Team," a "B Team" dubbed Aqua Blue and a stripped-down version of the group called Acoustic Blue. With an incredible repertoire of more than 650 cover songs, the ability to sing in several languages and a slew of worthy originals, it's easy to see why the band rarely has a day off.

Band members purchased Ocean Beach's legendary Hippie House in 2013, installing a state-of-the-art recording studio in the process. Perennially on the road, the next 60 days will find the group performing in China, Japan and Korea, as well as dates throughout the U.S.

Local fans can catch the group on July 18 at 6:30 p.m., when it performs as part of the annual free Point Loma Concert Series at Point Loma Park. Meanwhile, Acoustic Blue will perform at Wonderland OB on May 7 at 6:30 p.m.

Surprisingly, according to Stephans, the logistics involved in travel these days aren't as rough as might be expected.

"In our early days, we played some tours where the band was required to take their own speakers," he said. "It was brutal. Today, almost everything is taken care of, from hotels and transportation to having a backline. We just fly in. All we have to do is bring our guitars and maybe a rack of pedals. It's much easier than having to haul things around."

While there are language barriers in some places the band has played, he said some music is universal. "Different areas do have slightly different tastes in music," Stephans said. "Canada and Australia, for example, like things that are a little more rock. But something like a Michael Jackson hit would be known pretty much anywhere you played."

He said the computer age has added a new wrinkle to music.

"Everything gets everywhere at the same time now, goes viral or whatever," said Stephans. "So it doesn't matter where you go, the bigger modern hits are known. I figure something like the latest Pharrell track, for example, falls into that category."

While Liquid Blue is known for its wide range of cover tunes, it has also achieved acclaim for its originals. The band has two albums to its credit: "Supernova" (2004) and "Earth Passport" (2010), the latter yielding a No. 3 Billboard dance chart hit.

With everything from 50 Cent to Rihanna and Frank Sinatra to ZZ Top on that list, it's an undertaking that has already been under way for two years.

Fast approaching the 20th anniversary of the band, Stephans said he is happy with what the band has accomplished.

"I've never been driven for monetary reasons," he said. "It's a cliché, but I actually believe that if you do something you believe in, something you like, things will follow. It's that combination of the joy of doing something and trying to make a difference that makes being a musician special."

While the band has certainly been a success from the financial and business end, Stephans insists that wasn't the whole idea.

"The goal was travel and to put out socially conscious music," Stephans said. "In retrospect, we achieved some of that. We certainly did a lot of travel."

"If you can travel by playing music, I think it's great," he said. "Being a musician is one of the few vocations that you can do that with," he said.

• LIQUID BLUE performs at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, July 18 at the Point Loma Summer Concert Series, POINT LOMA PARK at Catalina Boulevard and Varona Street. All ages. Free. www.plconcerts.org.

Pointers may be turning corner after early-season slide

By SCOTT HOPKINS | THE BEACON

It's Baseball 101: strong pitching alone is not enough to win most baseball games. Timely hitting and reliable defensive support are also needed.

Such has been the misfortune of the Point Loma High School baseball team, which is entering the full Western League schedule with a record of 5-10 and a 4-4 tie with Montgomery High after the game was suspended after 12 innings.

Two early league matches resulted in losses to La Jolla (6-0) and Mission Bay (6-4) after the Pointers were charged with three errors in each contest.

In fact, the Pointers have yet to play an error-free defensive game — something done with some regularity by previous teams. The 2011 team was charged with only 27 errors in 30 games while the current squad has recorded 43 in its first 16.

In eight of the team's 10 losses, Pointer hitters have generated two or less runs, with four of those games decided by a one- or two-run margin.

And yet, improvement is apparent under first-year head coach Joe Radovich (PLHS class of 1968) and his staff.

In the recently completed Lions Tournament, his boys won three of four games, including a 12-2 blowout of Central High (El Centro) and a 2-0 shutout of Chula Vista by senior Joe Daluz, his first victory after being saddled with three losses.

Daluz's losses have come despite his 1.28 earned-run average and only three walks given up to go with 23 strikeouts. Only five of 13 runs he has given up were earned.

As a staff, the Dogs have recorded a sparkling 2.23 ERA. But only 37 of the 62 runs scored against them are earned, spoiling some strong performances.

James Klueber, a senior, has a 2-2 record (1.45 ERA), while junior Ryan Arnold has started the most games (six, with a 1-4 record, 3.73 ERA).

At the plate, several players have helped the team build a .251 batting average. Without them, that number would likely fall below the dreaded Mendoza Line (.200).

Infielder Chance Jimenez, a senior, tops the Pointers in several categories, including batting average (.367), hits (18), doubles (two, tied with four others) and on-base percentage (.426). He has struck out only twice in 55 plate appearances.

Cole Lemmel, a junior, is hitting .321 with 17 hits, including two doubles.

Daluz has a .320 average and a team-leading six runs batted in and two doubles. He has struck out only three times in 58 plate appearances and has a .386 on-base percentage. Jordan Goulet, a senior, sports a .397 on-base percentage.

The remaining Western League play:

- April 25: home vs. University City
- April 30: home vs. La Jolla
- May 2: at La Jolla
- May 5: at Mission Bay
- May 7: home vs. Mission Bay
- May 14: home vs. Madison
- May 16: at Madison
- May 19: at University City

• May 21: home vs. University City
All games take place at 3 p.m., and admission is free.

EXTRA BASES

• The David Wells Field is due for a new artificial turf installation following this season. The current hard surface likely contributes to fielding errors when balls take bad bounces.

• The injury bug has also bitten the Pointers. Pitchers Jayson Pappas and Sean Robinson, both juniors, are among those on the disabled list. Pappas, also a catcher whose bat is needed, should return soon. Robinson will undergo elbow surgery.

• Pointer baserunners have stolen 10 bases to date, while opponents have swiped 25.

'Ocean Beach-opoly' board game scores big with merchants, customers

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

It may not be a monopoly, but Ocean Beach has cornered the market with "Ocean Beach-opoly," its beach version of the time-honored board game.

Ocean Beach "passed go" and has collected $24,000 through sales of 1,500 copies of "Ocean Beach-opoly," retailing at $40 per game since November.

"The first order was for 1,000 (games) and we went through that in three days," said Denny Knox, executive director of Ocean Beach Main Street Association (OBMA), about the merchant group's board-game fundraiser.

"It's certainly been well received. And it's a really great thing because businesses have made more money on it than expected."

The first printing of "Ocean Beach-opoly" was so successful, OBMA had to go back for a second helping.

"We ordered another batch after Christmas and we still have about 500 left," said Knox, noting board game sales are likely to continue through the annual Ocean Beach Street Fair and Chili Cook-Off Festival on Saturday, June 28.

"It's certainly been well received. And it's a really great thing because businesses have made more money on it than expected," said Knox.

"Ocean Beach-opoly" has been so successful, in fact, that other coastal communities, like La Jolla, are contemplating creating their own Monopoly-style game.

Monopoly is an American board game originally published by Parker Brothers, based on the economic concept of monopoly with players competing to own all the game board's properties. Monopoly's history can be traced back to 1903, with the creation of a similar game by Elizabeth "Lizzie" J. Magie Phillips.

By 1933, a board game called Monopoly had been created, which formed the basis of the game sold by Parker Brothers in 1935. Several people, mostly in the midwestern U.S. and on the East Coast, contributed to the game's design and evolution.

This is when the game's design took on the layout and familiar playing cards were produced.

"Ocean Beach-opoly" board spaces were sold to Ocean Beach merchants last year on a first-come, first-serve basis.

"We wanted everyone to be equal, so we just started selling spaces at 9 a.m. to those with checks in hand and continued while properties were still available," said Knox.

She said the idea was to keep board spaces local — Sunset Cliffs, Dog Beach and the like — and eclectic in keeping with the community's spirit.

Other beach touches were added to "Ocean Beach-opoly." Board tokens, for instance, are not the classic Scotty dog, thimble or shoe, but rather "indigenous beach stuff," like peace signs, flip-flops, a surfboard and a palm tree, said Knox.

Asked if there will be an updated version of "Ocean Beach-opoly," Knox said the localized board game has probably served its intended purpose.

"I don't think so. We don't want to saturate the market," she said. "We've been thinking of trying other fun board games."

OBMA has said that "Ocean Beach-opoly" proceeds will go into a fund to do beautification projects and just "any great projects that come along."

Those projects, Knox said, are likely to include "a substantial donation to [redevelopment of] Veterans' Plaza."

OB Restaurant and Hospitality Week set to treat hungry guests

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

More than 15 Ocean Beach restaurants will show off their chops at Ocean Beach's second annual OB Restaurant & Hospitality Week, running from Monday, April 28 through Sunday, May 4.

Restaurants will offer special menus and deals for breakfast, lunch, dinner and dessert. This year's event has been expanded to include local lodging establishments. The OB Hotel, The Ocean Villa Inn, Elsbree House Bed and Breakfast and The Inn at Sunset Cliffs will host OB Restaurant & Hospitality Week's open-house-style launch parties at each of their locations on Sunday, April 27 from 4 to 7 p.m.

Party guests will be able to take in the view, check out the rooms and enjoy some nosh from participating restaurants. Each open-house location will raffle off an "Enjoy Ocean Beach" gift basket, complete with hotel, dining and beauty-treatment gift certificates, among other goodies.

"The Ocean Beach food scene keeps growing and expanding and bringing in more and more great dining establishments," said event chairman Mike Zouroudis of Raglan Public House.

"We're excited to open up our doors and show everyone what the great food and hospitality of Ocean Beach is all about," he said.

Swimming is one of our strongest recommendations for most K9's. It is an ideal form of exercise for a many reasons. Our rehab services offer assisted swimming in a warm water environment. The benefits are: • Non-weight-bearing (reducing stress on joints) • Facilitates full use of the front and hind legs vs. partial use as seen with underwater treadmills • Dogs are often able to actively swim although unable to move their legs on land (due to stroke/ spinal injury) • Allows manual techniques by therapist/ manual resistance to an affected limb • Swimming in a controlled environment is the safest way for clients to exercise. • Speeds recovery following injury/ surgery • Improves function & quality of life • Works reciprocal muscle groups (helps correct muscle imbalances) • Reduces pain & inflammation • Reduces canine obesity thus decreasing the risk of other health-related problems • Increases strength, range of motion & cardiovascular conditioning • Prevents overheating through proper water temperature • Increases tolerance for extended cardiovascular training • Decreases recovery time • Reduces post-exercise soreness • Provides good cross training for the competitive, athletic dog (619) 227-7802

IS YOUR JEWELRY AT RISK?

The prices for gold, platinum and diamonds are higher than they've been in recent memory. Your fine jewelry may be worth more now than when it was originally appraised – in some cases, much more! And if your jewelry isn't insured, now it's the best time to protect your precious items with a professional jewelry appraisal from A. L. Jacobs & Sons Jewelers.

Visit www.ALJacobsandSons.com to learn more. If you prefer, call A. L. Jacobs & Sons Jewelers at (619) 955-5007 to set up your appraisal appointment.

Important information for contact lens wearers: ACUVUE® Brand Contact Lenses are available by prescription only for vision correction. An eye care professional will determine whether contact lenses are right for you. Although rare, serious eye problems can develop while wearing contact lenses. To help avoid these problems, follow the wear and replacement schedule and the lens care instructions provided by your eye doctor. Do not wear contact lenses if you have an eye infection, or experience eye discomfort, excessive tearing, vision changes, redness or other eye problems. If one of these conditions occurs, contact your eye doctor immediately. For more information on proper wear, care and safety, talk to your eye care professional and ask for a Patient Instruction Guide, call 1-800-843-2020 or visit Acuvue.com. *Clinical research has shown when worn on a daily disposable basis, 1-DAY ACUVUE® Brand and other daily disposable multifocal A contact lenses such as 1-DAY ACUVUE® MOIST® Brand may provide improved comfort for many patients suffering from mild discomfort and/or itching associated with allergies during contact lens wear compared to lenses replaced at intervals of greater than 2 weeks.
