Local businesses gear up for holiday shoppers

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

You've heard of Black Friday and Cyber Monday? But maybe you missed Small Business Saturday. The fledgling national business holiday is celebrated on the weekend immediately following Thanksgiving. The special small-business holiday is alive and well and being observed this year on the Peninsula as it has been since it was first created nationally six years ago.

"We look forward to Small Business Saturday," said Denise (Denny) Knox, executive director of Ocean Beach MainStreet Association (OBMA), the beach community's business improvement district.

"It gives us an opportunity to promote our local shops with a nationally recognized campaign – and with more than 500 small businesses in our association of local merchants, OB is a great neighborhood to shop local."

Knox noted OBMA is designated as a Small Business Saturday Neighborhood Champion and has created a business directory at www.oceanbeach-sandiego.com.

Traffic snarls go bye bye bye with InSync system

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

Tired of gridlock on Rosecrans Street and throughout the Peninsula?

Relief is on the way soon in the form of an InSync traffic optimization system now being installed on signals along Rosecrans, one of San Diego's busiest and most congested thoroughfares. A similar traffic-optimization system was installed six months ago on Torrey Pines Road on La Jolla Parkway in "the Throat" in between Jolla Village.

InSync traffic optimization on Torrey Pines Road.

"This is the same signal-optimization technique," said Duncan Hughes, a city senior traffic engineer, who noted, "Rosecrans in Midway is among the heaviest-volume roads (in the city), not just Rosecrans, but all the crossing arterials."

Seeking to combat worsening traffic congestion, city officials have created a $163 million master plan to install, over a 10-year period, modern stoplight timing systems and other advanced technologies that ease gridlock. The 10-year plan is intended to connect each of the city's 1,540 stoplights into a timing and

Dennis Conner receives New York Yacht Club Medal

San Diego Yacht Club member, Point Loma native and sailing legend Dennis Conner was honored with the New York Yacht Club Medal on Thursday, Nov. 10 at NYYC's Clubhouse in Manhattan.

New York Yacht Club periodically awards its medal to recognize those who have made outstanding contributions and achievements to NYYC and yachting in general. Conner is the 17th person to be awarded this medal. Past honorees include yacht designer Olin Stephens, America's Cup challenger Baron Marcel Bich and America's Cup winner and television commentator Gary Jobson.

"It was a huge night for me," said Conner, who was joined in New York by several former crewmates at the medal presentation. "Being awarded the New York Yacht Club Medal is special; it's one of the most coveted honors in yachting. What really meant a lot was being able to share this with so many friends, and the people who made this medal possible. It was an awards dinner that will be long remembered by the sailing legends who attended."

Conner grew up learning to sail on San Diego waters in SDYC's Junior Program and later joined as a member. After progressing to win several world championships and a bronze medal in the Tempest class at the 1976 Olympics, he found success competing in the most prestigious sailing event in the world: The America's Cup.

coordination network controlled by a central hub.

Using technology to improve traffic flow is much less expensive than widening roads or building transit lines, city officials said.

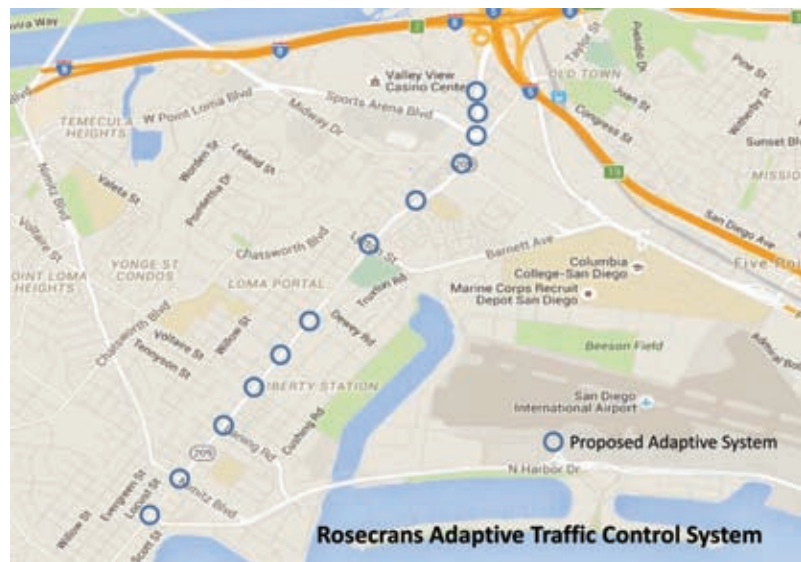

Councilwoman Lorie Zapf of District 2, which includes the Peninsula, hailed signal optimization as a major step forward.

"This is great news for the residents and commuters of Point Loma," said Zapf. "By optimizing signal timing, we can improve travel time and reduce greenhouse gas emissions moving the City forward with its Climate Action Plan. I am very supportive of this project."

The InSync model being used for signal optimization in San Diego was developed by Rhythm Engineering in 2005. Instead of developing incremental improvements to existing traffic control tools and methods, the InSync system is set up to use computers to detect demand in real-time, then make immediate adjustments in signalization.

Nearly all traffic control systems today use digital hardware but remain constrained by analog thinking such as common cycle lengths, set sequences, fixed offsets and standardized allotment of green time, or splits.

The InSync Processor is instead a modern-state machine that can dynamically choose which phases to serve and instantly adjust and coordinate service and green time. By adapting to actual traffic demand, InSync is superior to predetermined signal-timing plans that, at best, estimate traffic demand based on a small historical sampling and generalize those results across years of traffic signalization.

InSync's ability to constantly see and flexibly serve actual demand in the best way possible is what enables it to produce successful before-and-after results.

Traffic engineer Hughes noted new equipment is being mounted on Rosecrans traffic signals, adding the networked system of about a dozen lights on Rosecrans between Roseville and the Valley View Casino Center will be up and running likely in early 2017.

"Each one of those 12 intersections on Rosecrans are all networked together," Hughes said, adding, "They talk to each other and share information. They'll make (computerized) decisions."

What the city's hoping to achieve with traffic-signal optimization along Rosecrans, Hughes said, is to "decrease the number of stops. We'd like to see the travel time from end-to-end go down."

Hughes added the Rosecrans Adaptive Traffic Control System is meant to "decrease gas consumption and decrease greenhouse gas emissions, all part of the city's Climate Action Plan."

The Climate Action Plan aims to satisfy state mandates for reducing greenhouse gases, including a requirement to cut carbon emissions by 20 percent below 1990 levels by 2020, 40 percent by 2030 and 80 percent by 2050.

Dr. Dave De Rosier's Halloween Candy collection

Dr. Dave De Rosier, located at 3019 Emerson Street in Point Loma, is not anti-Halloween – just concerned about the effects of lots of sugar on children's teeth. That's why, for a week after Halloween, he encouraged kids to bring their Halloween candy to his office – and paid them $2 per pound, with a promise to double the payment with a donation to the new dental clinic at Veteran's Village of San Diego.

And they came, piling their candy on the office scale. Dr. De Rosier and staff collected 50 pounds of candy and had dollar bills at the ready for eager children and parents. Deciding to up the ante, Dr. De Rosier donated $500 to Veteran's Village, in addition to $200 in private donations from patients and staff moved by the cause, for a total of $700.

"We did this because obesity, diabetes, and tooth decay is on the rise today, and we want to be a small part of stopping this," said Dr. De Rosier. "And, the new dental clinic at Veterans Village needs money to grow so it can serve our brave Veterans."

After life on the streets, many veterans have serious dental issues. That's why the San Diego County Dental Society partnered with Veteran's Village of San Diego to build a state-of-the-art dental clinic on their campus, which offers desperately needed free dental services to the approximately 200 residents at the Village, with hopes to expand the program throughout San Diego County. "Being a veteran myself, it warms my heart to see all the generous people of Point Loma, said Business Coordinator Robin Jett. "It's a wonderful cause that we are donating to, and much needed!"

Midway planners discuss land use, zoning

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

Land-use zoning and homelessness dominated discussion at Midway Community Planning Group's November meeting.

Community planners heard from city planner Vickie White, who's been working with Midway Community Planning Group (MCPG) for months on an update of Midway's Community Plan, the district's blueprint for commercial development.

White "walked" planners through a discussion of land use and zoning for the Camino del Rio District. She noted the city's General Plan identifies Midway-Pacific Highway Corridor as an employment center, adding the Camino Del Rio section is proposed to remain zoned largely heavy commercial and industrial.

Pointing out current land-use designations in Camino del Rio are light industrial and visitor commercial, White said zoning changes contemplated in the community plan update could make some existing businesses or structures "previously conforming." She added that could create limitations on what can be done with business activity, or property, in the future.

"The Sports Arena's lease is up in 2020 and we'd like to know what's going to be done with that area," said MCPG chair Cathy Kenton. "Is it going to remain long-term industrial, or be redeveloped for a better land use than what we have there now?"

White distributed a summary spreadsheet to advisory group members outlining allowable land-use designations within a community plan.

"This is the first step we take in articulating the vision for your particular areas in the future," White told MCPG. "Then we identify a (land use) zone that best implements that particular land use."

White pointed out the Camino del Rio section of Midway "has a lot of smaller startups" in both the coffee and craft brew industries. "We also want to update some of the currently existing areas that have heavy commercial uses," she said.

The group conversation then turned to homelessness, an ongoing and worsening problem throughout Midway District, which is proposed for designation as a state-mandated emergency homeless shelter.

"One of our concerns is dumping potentially thousands of homeless in an emergency shelter in this area (Midway)," said Kenton noting "there is a lack of available housing in our city."

MCPG board member Tod Howarth agreed, likening adding a new emergency homeless shelter in an area already overburdened with homeless to "putting sugar out for ants, more of whom are going to come like frosting on a rotten cake."

Police community relations officer David Surwilo noted recent state legislation downgrading some non-violent crimes from felonies to misdemeanors, allowing early release of criminals to be a factor in increasing crime and the number of homeless on the streets.

"We have a lot of things going against us — and some resources taken away," Surwilo said.

Asked what's being done to combat homelessness, Bruce Williams, aide to District 2 Councilwoman Lorie Zapf, noted "aggressive transient issues" remain in the forefront.

"It's not against the law to be homeless," said Williams, adding something can be done under the law if transients "are encroaching or trespassing on other people's property."

"This is an enforcement issue," noted Kenton adding, "There's no affordable housing. We've got to do something about affordable housing."

MCPG will not meet in December, but will meet again on Wednesday, Jan. 18 starting at 3 p.m. at SDCC - West City Campus, Room 205, at 3249 Fordham St.

Historical Board denies Midway Post Office historical status

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

A proposal to have the former Midway Post Office designated historical because of its architectural style was defeated by a 3-3-1 vote of the city's Historical Resources Board (HRB) on Nov. 17.

It takes six votes of the 11-member Historical Resources Board advisory board, which is appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the City Council, to have a structure declared historical.

Since 1970, the City of San Diego has had an active and growing preservation program for both historical and archaeological resources. From 2000 to 2003, 260 individual sites and six historical districts, containing 318 contributing sites, have been designated by the Historical Resources Board (HRB).

Attorney Scott A. Moomjian representing the applicant, SteelWave of Orange County, a full-service, commercial and residential real estate management firm attempting to purchase the former Midway Post Office property at 2535 Midway Drive now in escrow, said, "We didn't think the building was a good example of the Brutalist style of architecture considering its young age — less than 45. We felt the HRB did the appropriate thing in not designating it."

According to Wikipedia, Brutalist architecture is a movement that flourished from the 1950s to the mid-1970s. The term originates from the French word for "raw." The architectural style is characterized by its ruggedness and lack of concern to look comfortable or easy. Brutalism can be seen as a reaction by a younger generation to the lightness, optimism and frivolity of some 1930s and 1940s architecture.

Moomjian noted a recently completed full historical analysis of the potential historicity of the former post office concluded "the building was not eligible for historical designation under any of the local criteria. They took a closer look at it and concluded the building was not a good example (of Brutalism)."

Driver who killed PLNU student, sentenced to 11 years in prison

By NEAL PUTNAM | THE BEACON

A drunk driver was sentenced Nov. 4 to 11 years and eight months in state prison for killing a Point Loma Nazarene University graduate and injuring three others.

Roy Thomas Dunkin, 51, didn't say anything during the 2 ½ hour sentencing in which he received the maximum penalty in the Aug. 20 death of Lucas Makana Riley, 24, by San Diego Superior Court Judge Laura Hलगren.

All 44 courtroom seats were filled and there was an overflow crowd outside with the media sitting in the jury box. Most of the audience was composed of the parents, siblings, fiancée, and friends of Riley, a sculptor, of San Diego.

Deputy District Attorney Cally Bright said Dunkin's blood/alcohol level was .14, which is nearly twice the legal limit. The judge noted Dunkin ran a red light shortly before his Chevrolet GMC pickup truck struck another car on state Route 67 after 7 p.m. The other car spun around before the truck collided with the Mini Cooper Riley was driving.

The Mini Cooper exploded and Riley burned to death in his car. His family noted that dental records were used to identify him because he was burned beyond recognition.

Hलगren ordered Dunkin to pay $26,000 in restitution to the victim's family and to the other injured motorists. Dunkin received credit for 76 days in jail and was fined $1,294.

"He made the decision to drink and drive," said Hलगren.

Dunkin pleaded guilty to gross vehicular manslaughter while intoxicated and driving under the influence of alcohol with injury to three others on Sept. 2. He has no prior record.

Shawna Wickwire, Riley's fiancée and a PLNU graduate, said she went from "the happiest time of her life" while engaged and then experienced "heartbreak beyond belief" when he was killed. She recalled the difficult phone call she made to his parents in Hawaii to inform them Riley was dead.

"I lost the love of my life, my best friend," said Wickwire. "There's a permanent void...I hope this is an example of why we should not drink and drive."

Riley's sister, Lauren Riley, said her brother's death was "the greatest sorrow I have ever known." His brother, Cory Riley, said "it has changed all of us."

PLNU Professor David Adey said "he was truly one of our best" and he hired Lucas Riley to work on a public art project for the County of San Diego in Little Italy. Adey said a memorial for Riley was moved to the Point Loma campus near the art department.

"Mr. Dunkin, you took the life of our son," said Tami Riley, his mother, who added that Lucas would have given him the last life jacket in a sinking boat.

"I don't have hatred in my heart. Hate takes you down the road to bitterness and hopelessness," said Tami Riley.

"We have forgiven you, Mr. Dunkin," said Mark Riley, his father.

San Diego surfin' dog may ride in the Rose Parade

By DAVE SCHWAB | THE BEACON

Pet-product entrepreneur Joey Herrick brought his Lucy Pet Gnarly Crank'n K-9 Wave Maker down to Sports Arena Shopping Center recently to host final surfin' dog auditions to choose a final slate of candidate hounds to ride on his 2017 Rose Parade float.

And a San Diego semifinalist was chosen, Turbo, a golden retriever, owned by Jenna and Gary Lavalier of San Carlos. Turbo is one of eight semifinalists from across the country that America will vote on to see which of the dogs are finalists, and get to ride on Herrick's dog-surfing float on Jan. 2 before the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

"Since San Diego is the dog surfing capital of the United States, it was a thrill for us to be able to see these dogs in action," said Herrick. "They did not disappoint. We met some extraordinary dogs and it was a tough decision. But we definitely found a local dog that stood out from the crowd and he is a beautiful gold-

8 Simple Safety Tips for Online Shopping

Online shopping has become so common with consumers that it's easy to develop bad habits when it comes to protecting your personal information. With the holidays, and holiday shopping, fast approaching, now is a good time for consumers to remind themselves how they can stay safe while shopping online.

Whether making purchases on a mobile device or home computer, here are eight tips to keep your personal information protected this holiday season.

1. Use a familiar website. Rather than click on an ad, start at your favorite retail outlet's website

2. Look for the icon of a green padlock in the URL address bar. It could also appear at the bottom of your browser. This signifies added security.

3. Never buy anything from a site that doesn't have secure sockets layer (SSL) encryption. You'll know if a website has it because it will start with 'HTTPS://' rather than just 'HTTP://'.

4. No online shopping site should ever ask for your social security number or birthdate to do business. Provide as little information as possible to online retailers.

5. Check your accounts regularly, especially during the holidays. Don't wait for your statement to identify fraudulent charges. If you see something wrong, call your bank or credit card company immediately. You may be protected against fraudulent charges.

6. Make sure your devices are up-to-date on their antivirus protection.

7. Be careful where you click. Avoid unknown pop-up ads or ads imbedded in unfamiliar websites.

8. Don't send your credit card information via email or post on social media, even in private messages.

Another way to keep your personal information protected is to make sure your devices are protected. There are several ways to maintain the most up-to-date protection on your computer or mobile device.

1. Lock your device with a password.

2. Be mindful of what you download.

3. Update when prompted.

4. Delete apps that are no longer being used from mobile devices.

5. Disable WiFi and Bluetooth when not in use.

6. Install security software, and update regularly.

"I encourage people to visit our site to see the diverse and unique small businesses that make up our community," she said.

OBMA president Barbara Iacometti agreed there's "no better way to get your holiday shopping done than to walk down the street and pop into one of the many independently owned businesses here in OB to get unique gifts for your loved ones, with no crowded malls to deal with."

Added Iacometti, "A few of the businesses on Niagara are joining together to put a passport together to encourage shoppers to visit the other businesses as well. If you visit the six shops on the passport, you will be entered into a drawing for some great prizes from the participating businesses.

"Many businesses are having specials, double-points days and various other promotions," continued Iacometti. "It is a good day for people to get out and show how much they like having great stores here in the community."

Dog Beach Dog Wash will be offering a 10 percent discount off all dog and cat toys for Shop Small Saturday. "Shopping small is good for us all," said owners Jane and Mindy.

Maria Contreras-Sweet, administrator of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), is encouraging all Americans to "shop small" at local businesses and "dine small" at local restaurants and bars as part of Small Business Saturday on Nov. 26.

"Small Business Saturday is about supporting local businesses, the pillars of economic stability and job creation in communities all across America," said Contreras-Sweet. "Small businesses are the backbone of our economy and the heart of our communities."

Small Business Saturday was first observed in Massachusetts in 2010 as a counterpart to Black Friday and Cyber Monday. But unlike Black Friday and Cyber Monday, which feature big box retail and e-commerce, Small Business Saturday encourages holiday shoppers to patronize brick-and-mortar businesses both small and local.

The first Small Business Saturday held in Roslindale Village, Mass., was sponsored by American Express, in partnership with the non-profit National Trust for Historic Preservation. The inaugural event was promoted nationwide by a radio and TV advertising campaign. American Express publicized the initiative using social media, advertising and public relations.

The Twitter hashtag #SmallBusinessSaturday has existed since early 2010 and has been used to promote small businesses on any Saturday (not solely that Saturday between Black Friday and Cyber Monday). Additionally, some small-business owners have run marketing specials on the November Small Business Saturday to help capitalize on the boost in foot or online traffic, as most customers in this time period are actively shopping for the holidays.

Ocean Beach Celebrates Small Business Saturday

Local Ocean Beach businesses will participate in Shop Small Saturday on Nov. 26th

Ocean Beach merchants will offer discounts and deals on Nov. 26 as part of Small Business Saturday, a nationwide event hosted by American Express.

Small Business Saturday, founded in 2010, encourages people to shop small on the Saturday after Thanksgiving. The event promotes holiday shopping at small, local businesses, which helps these businesses recruit returning customers.

Several Ocean Beach small businesses are participating this year by offering specials on Nov. 26.

Ocean Beach MainStreet Association has been involved in American Express Small Business Saturday since its inception in 2010.

The event helps local Ocean Beach businesses and merchants receive recognition and support from the local community.

The Ocean Beach MainStreet Association is designated as a Small Business Saturday Neighborhood Champion, which means they support local businesses in the community.

This is Gonzo and he loves to Shop Small!!!

Pointers football season ends; re-leaguering effort of schools unbalanced

By SCOTT HOPKINS | THE BEACON

Point Loma's football season ended on a sour note last Friday night when they were scheduled to meet Western League foe St. Augustine in a CIF Div. I quarterfinal game, the second time the two teams played in just a 14-day span.

The results weren't much different.

The No. 2 seeded Saints built a 45-0 lead over the No. 7 seeded Pointers before Josh Ball scored the final touchdown of the Pointers' season in a 45-7 victory at Mesa College that followed a 45-15 Saints win at Point Loma in the season's final league game.

The Saints move on to face No. 3 seeded La Costa Canyon tomorrow (Nov. 25) in the semifinals.

The loss left the Pointers with an uncharacteristic overall record of 5-7 including a 1-3 mark in a newly configured Western League. More on that later. But first:

Why were the two teams scheduled to play each other again and so soon?

The answer lies with the San Diego Section of the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF), which oversees all prep athletics in the San Diego-Imperial County region along with other offices that cover the remainder of California.

Formerly, schools were grouped for playoff competition solely by student population.

In their relatively new "Power Rankings," the CIF has attempted to fairly balance competition between schools with vastly different student populations and skill levels in an effort to promote play between similar schools.

This new system awards points both for the strength of a school (based on its record) and the strength of the opponents it has played. Playoff pairings are made directly from these numbers.

Schools are grouped in divisions numbered one (I) to five (V) based on records over the previous five years. The Pointers, based on their high-quality program, have earned placement in Div. I, which composes the county's top 24 teams.

At season's end, the top eight teams in Div. I become the elite eight-team "Open Division," which includes an automatic bye in the first round.

The remaining 16 teams comprise the Div. I playoffs, with the top four teams receiving a first-round bye.

Seeded No. 7 in Div. I, the Pointers outscored No. 10 El Camino in a dramatic first-round game played at Clairemont, with the winning team scheduled to move to the quarterfinals against No. 2 Saints, resulting in the teams' second meeting.

In Divs. II, III and IV there are 12 playoff schools each. Div. V and VI includes four schools each.

New league members

Even more unfortunate this year was a re-leaguering of public schools in the San Diego Unified School District that saw the Pointers' Western League drop teams like Mission Bay and La Jolla in favor of county powers Cathedral Catholic and St. Augustine, private schools who are able to recruit players, even providing scholarships to athletes unable to afford tuition.

The traditionally strong Dons and Saints as well as holdover Madison were all ranked among the Top 10 teams in the county. Newcomer Mira Mesa joined longtime member Point Loma to form the new league.

The results were both predictable and lopsided:

Top-rated Cathedral remains undefeated and won its Western League games by an average score of 37-7.5. The Pointers came closer than anyone, losing 37-17 on Oct. 21.

Second place Madison lost only to Cathedral and won its league games by a 52.3-18.7 score skewed by a wild 56-42 win over the Saints.

The third place Saints, who lost only to Cathedral and Madison, won their league games by an average score of 44-9.6.

The fourth place Pointers defeated only Mira Mesa, losing four league games by an average score of 45-10.5.

Lowly Mira Mesa finished their season 1-9, losing their four league games by an average of 45-8.5.

If the goal of this re-leaguering effort was to balance schools within each league, the Western League is a bad example.

Other CIF sections have been able to place their larger number of private schools together into one or more leagues where they battle similar schools for section championships.

Until the local CIF is able to do this, there will be little balance in leagues like the current Western League that have three Top 10 teams among its five members.

Pointers Jr. Pee Wees in Pop Warner Super Bowl; raising funds for trip

The San Diego Pop Warner Point Loma Pointers Junior Pee Wee D2 team is headed to Florida for the Pop Warner Super Bowl in December.

This team of hard-working and dedicated 11- and 12-year-old boys had an undefeated regular season; giving up only 12 points the entire season led by defensive coordinator Kevin Emerson. They then went on to win the Westcon Regional Championship; securing their place in the Dec. 2-10 National Championship.

The team's coaches, led by head coach Pete Balistreri, taught the boys the importance of working hard and never giving up, while also stressing having fun and team sportsmanship. Many of these boys are All-American Scholars, with the importance of education emphasized frequently by Balistreri and his coaching team.

The team was awarded the 2016 San Diego Pop Warner Sportsmanship Award, which exemplified their good sportsmanship both on and off the field. Many of the boys have been playing football together since elementary school and most reside in the Point Loma community and nearby neighborhoods.

With 29 boys on the team, seven coaches and several team assistants heading to the ESPN Wide World of Sports Complex in Kissimmee, Fla., the team has established a GoFundMe page to help offset some of the financial responsibilities. There will also be additional fundraising efforts before the team departs on Dec. 2.

The Football National Championships, known as the Pop Warner Super Bowl, consists of 64 teams from eight Pop Warner Regions playing in five age/weight classifications (Jr. Pee Wee, Pee Wee, Jr. Varsity, Varsity and Unlimited). There are also two playing divisions, Division I and Division II.

OB holiday show benefits annual Food and Toy Drive

By BART MENDOZA | THE BEACON

One of Ocean Beach's most beloved annual events, the OB Food and Toy Drive Concert on the Farmers Market, returns on Dec. 7 to the intersection of Bacon Street and Newport Avenue. Helmed by guitarist Michael Head, best known for his work with The Country Rockin' Rebels, the free event runs from 4 to 7 p.m.

"We collect non-perishable food, new toys, clothing and cash to benefit OB families in need," said Head. "There are many collection points across OB, but this is the only one with free music scheduled."

On hand that day will be Ethan Wade of the Brothers Gow, guitarist Israel Maldonado, singer songwriters Sheri Stolozfus and Dave Gilbert. The event has been a tradition for more than a decade.

"For as long I and my predecessor have been doing it, so at least 10 years. It's a simple extension of the community-wide food and toy drive that has gone on as long as I can remember, and I've been in OB for 20-plus years," Head stated. He points out that while the day's music will focus on seasonal tunes, "let's just say the definition of 'holiday music' is very wide," he laughed.

The event can make all the difference to some families in need. "We generate a fair amount every year. I do know that it is very special to see the look on the family's eyes when these things are delivered. I did it my first year and it will bring a tear to your eye. Certainly makes you feel lucky for what you have," he said.

Scheduling entertainment at the weekly farmer's market can be a time-consuming effort for Head. "Timing is one of the toughest things with the weekly," he stated. "I essentially need to be last guy in and first guy out to best suit the vendors. This leaves a tight time-frame for setup and sound checks. Given the location of the market music, which is the killer spot, I'm kind of the lynch pin for the traffic flow," Head said.

He notes that Ocean Beach residents are generous. "OB always gives what it can to a good cause," Head remarked. "The donation levels rise every year. They also know every little bit helps so may only give a little. One year a lady walked straight to the office and wrote a four-figure check. Miracles do happen."

Wherever you may be from, Head feels it's important to give at this time of year. "Giving makes us whole. You don't even realize it's something you need to do, until you do it. Then you see the power of positivity and people working together. You're not an entire person until you give what you can."

It's been noted before that musicians are usually amongst the first to contribute. "I know for me I feel like it's something I can give. And music is very powerful. It's like the waves in the ocean, or solar power: you might as well use that power, do something with that power anyway. I'm going to make music either way – but this makes it so worthwhile."

For his part, Head simply enjoys seeing the people of all ages coming out each week and having a good time. "Especially the parents with little kids," he said. "They really love to share the music with their kids, and this might be one of the first times these little folks see live music up close. I hope it makes an impression on them. I think it does, and I know it did to all of us music lovers somewhere along the way."

While a donation is encouraged on the day, Head points out that its not required. "Come out, bring the family and enjoy," he said good naturedly. "Everyone gives in different ways, so that is important, but not the only thing. Part of it is bringing people together, and empowering others through the belief that we can make a difference, every day, but certainly this time of year. Maybe someone will be inspired to go on and do something, and so on and so on," he mused.

PLNU grad creates art installation for the holidays at Liberty Station Holidays at Liberty Station are a time to skate, create and celebrate. One local artist is taking the “create” part to heart. Native San Diegoan Benjamin Cabral, a multi-disciplinary artist, will create a new public art installation just in time for the season of holiday festivities.

Cabral is the second artist to be commissioned by the NTC Foundation to create an original piece for the holidays. Last year, La Jollan Smadar Sampson created brightly-lit “ICE” for display in front of the Dick Laub NTC Command Center.

Cabral’s new piece, titled “Some Faces From Around Here,” has been placed in Fieldstone Legacy Plaza adjacent to the Fantasy on Ice Skating Rink, and was unveiled on Nov. 17 to coincide with the opening of the Rink. It will be on display through Jan. 15.

Cabral will host an artist talk on Friday, Dec. 2 during the free monthly Friday Night Liberty. Cabral will also create an exhibition of his works in the Martha Pace Swift Gallery at 2820 Roosevelt Road, next to Solare Ristorante. The exhibit will run concurrent with his installation in Legacy Plaza.

Cabral’s colorful and playful work often utilizes craft material such as puffy paint, glitter, and fun fur. His work has been exhibited at Bread and Salt in Barrio Logan and The Keller Gallery at Point Loma Nazarene University (PLNU), where he earned his BA in painting in 2016. In 2012, he placed in the Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego’s “25 and Under” art competition.

“Ben is a talented painter and sculptor. His work draws upon his generation’s relationship and fascination with social media, consumerism and celebrity, acting as both participant and critic. He often leaves the viewer uncertain whether he is celebrating these obsessions or critiquing them, which is where his work becomes multi-layered, poetic and relevant,” said Dave Adey, MFA professor of art and design, PLNU.

For the holiday installation, Cabral created a brightly colored, free standing three-tiered tower surrounded by figurative cut outs. He uses images of the Point Loma community as inspiration and subject of his public art piece. Cabral was inspired by community members around Liberty Station, and sought to use the moments they shared as source material for his monumental sculpture/painting.

“I was inspired by the Liberty Station sign that read, ‘Collect Beautiful Moments’ so each figure will be based on a moment,” he explained.

The work invites the viewer to post a selfie with it, capturing yet another moment, and continuing the act of community building into virtual reality. Arts District Liberty Station officials encourage visitors to share fun images using #Salutetheseason and #skating-selfie.

“We’re excited to continue the holiday tradition of commissioning a new work by a local artist to celebrate the holidays,” said NTC Foundation executive director Alan Ziter. “Originality, creativity and innovation are at the heart of what we do and we are always looking for ways to add an artistic component to any celebration.”

This installation was selected by the NTC Foundation Art in Public Places Committee and is funded by the NTC Foundation and Point Loma Nazarene University.

The Art in Public Places committee consists of NTC Foundation board members and community representatives: Vicki Reed, community volunteer; Victoria Hamilton, arts and culture advocate, Jacobs Center for Neighborhood Innovation; Judy McDonald, community volunteer; Mary Keough Lyman; Lynda Forsha, principal, independent curator and principal, Art Advisory Services; Benjamin Schenk, COO of the LWP Group, Pamela Bensoussan, Chula Vista City Council, and Nathan Cadieux, vice president, McMillin Cos.

Cirque du Soleil’s new show ‘Toruk,’ based on ‘Avatar,’ plays this week at Valley View

The new Cirque du Soleil touring show inspired by James Cameron’s record-breaking movie “Avatar,” “Toruk – The First Flight,” will be presented at The Valley View Casino Center at 3500 Sports Arena Blvd. from Nov. 24-27, as part of a global tour in arenas around the world that started last year. Tickets for those performances may be purchased at cirquedusoleil.com/toruk.

“Toruk – The First Flight” transports you to the world of Pandora in a visually stunning live setting. Experience a storytelling odyssey through a new world of imagination, discovery, and possibility.

Through a riveting fusion of cutting-edge visuals, puppetry and stagecraft buoyed by a soaring cinematic score, Cirque du Soleil applies its unique signature style to James Cameron’s imaginary world and “makes the bond” between two kindred artistic visions that capture the imagination.

This live immersive experience also bears the distinct signature of directors and multimedia innovators Michel Lemieux and Victor Pilon. It is a living ode to the Na’vi’s symbiotic coexistence with nature and their belief in the basic interconnectedness of all living things.

and populated by unforgettable characters, “Toruk – The First Flight” is a mythical tale set thousands of years before the events depicted in the film “Avatar,” and before any humans ever set foot on Pandora.

When a natural catastrophe threatens to destroy the sacred Tree of Souls, Ralu and Entu, two Omatcaya boys on the brink of adulthood, fearlessly decide to take matters into their own hands. Upon learning that Toruk can help them save the Tree of Souls, they set out, together with their newfound friend Tsyah, on a quest high up in the Floating Mountains to find the mighty red and orange predator that rules the Pandoran sky. Prophecy is fulfilled when a pure soul rises among the clans to ride Toruk for the first time and save the Na’vi from a terrible fate.

en retriever named Turbo. Good luck in the final voting Turbo.”

Jenna Lavalieri said she and her husband Gary, as well as their pet, are all stoked by the news.

“Turbo is 4 1/2 years old and has been surfing for the last four summers and is the proud recipient of seven trophies and medals from various competitions,” she said adding, “Turbo surfs for the joy of it, and to promote dog and animal causes.”

Lavalieri said Turbo is “not allowed to make any money or brag or lie about his accomplishments. We require him to be humble.”

But she added nonetheless, “This is just a little dream come true for all of us, not only Turbo,” whom she pointed out, “Would love the attention almost as much as he loves (Herrick’s) wave machine.”

Herrick is the founder of Lucy Pet Foundation, a non-profit organization whose sole mission is to prevent the euthanasia of 80,000 pets per week through spay and neuter education. He sold his multi-million pet food company, Natural Balance, a few years ago, and decided he wanted to give back to animals and their pet parents as they have been so good to him.

The Lucy Pet Foundation’s Gnarly Crank’n K-9 Wave Maker consists of a 75-foot long tractor-trailer filled with 5,000 gallons of water.

“These surfing auditions are really a fun time,” added Herrick. “It’s great to see the smiles on the dogs’, owners’ and spectators’ faces. We encourage everyone to come out and showcase those pooches with surfing talents.”

Students to rally in Old Town on Dec. 14

School leaders from across San Diego County are pledging to keep their schools open and welcoming for all students, despite the recent election campaign that left some students and their families feeling vulnerable. The group is calling for allies across the political spectrum to stand with students at a countywide rally being planned for Dec. 14 in Old Town.

The December rally to support students is being organized by the San Diego Unified School District Office of Family and Community Engagement.

“We want every child in San Diego, California and the nation to know that schools are safe places, where you are welcome, no matter your religious background, gender identity or country of national origin,” said Superintendent Cindy Marten of San Diego Unified. “We refuse to let our students be defined by the way others see them.”
