Village Merchant Association proposes street fair concept

By DAVE SCHWAB

Whoa, not wow, was the initial reaction of La Jolla Planned District Ordinance review committee to La Jolla Village Merchant Association's proposed creation of a new Thursday night Village street fair to be named Walk on Wall. The committee, which heard a pitch for WOW from Village Merchant Association executive director Jodi Rudick on Aug. 9, concurred that the concept of seeking to revitalize the community's business district was intriguing. But the Planned District Ordinance committee members also expressed concern that the new proposed event might be too similar to, and clash with, La Jolla's existing La Jolla Open Aire Market held Sundays on Girard Avenue and Genter Street. "Our farmers market brings a lot of people into La Jolla on Sunday, and that filters down to our businesses," said PDO chair Deborah Marengo. "It's a great attraction and it's done a very good service for the community and our schools. If we have vendors competing with our Sunday farmers market, I think that would be a mistake. The farmers market has been here 25 years. I'm not sure this new market wouldn't be a lot of duplication." "It is not a farmers market," said Rudick. "It will really have a street fair feel. It will definitely skew more toward a maker's or artisan's market. We don't want any of our market vendors to come from outside La Jolla and compete with our merchants. That's not the goal. Every one of our merchants is going to be given the opportunity to have a booth. This is really about

PAESAN & PB TOWN COUNCIL ANNIVERSARY

Pacific Beach Town Council is holding the 41st Police and Emergency Services Appreciation Night (PAESAN), an annual community event honoring first responders, on Wednesday, Sept. 22 from 4-6:30 p.m. at North Crown Point Shores Rotary Club Pavilion, 3700 Corona Oriented Road off Crown Point Drive at Moorland Drive.

San Diego Police Department Northern Division, Station 21 of San Diego Fire & Rescue, San Diego Lifeguards and Mission Bay Park Rangers and park maintenance staff of the San Diego Park & Recreation Department will all be recognized at the special appreciation event. Upon arrival, check in at the VIP desk to receive a wristband for the barbecue. The program will begin at 5 p.m.

PAESAN is an annual tradition in Pacific Beach, a community barbecue and awards ceremony honoring the first responders who serve the community. It's also a fundraiser. Each year, a group is honored and supported rotating between lifeguards, firefighters, park rangers and police. Typically, PBTC purchases items that are needed but not funded for first responders in the current City budget. Barbecue tickets are $5 for adults, with children under 12 admitted free. Find tickets at pbtown-council.org or call 858-483-6666. Tickets will also be available the day of the event for $10.

"PAESAN is my favorite PBTC event. It brings our entire community together and allows us to show our appreciation for all of our first responders," said event chair Cathie Jolley. "I don't know of another community that does anything like this: It's a PB thing. This year, the PBTC is celebrating our 70th anniversary. That's a milestone for any organization. But for a small nonprofit, 70 years is a huge accomplishment. I'm grateful to be a part of it."

Mossy Toyota is hosting the carne asada barbecue, OMBAC will be serving traditional fare, and PBTC members will be whipping up their appreciation-packed PAESAN salad. The Pacific Beach Woman's Club will provide a PBTC 70th anniversary cake, and the VFW is providing drinks. Nightingale Music will provide music and crafts. The police, firefighters, lifeguards, and parks staff will nominate one of their own to receive the PBTC Service Award. RSVP by Sept. 15 and/or send questions by email to cathiejolley@hotmail.com.

PB RESTAURANT WALK

Get a taste of Pacific Beach in the heart of the community's business district at the annual PB Restaurant Walk sponsored by Discover PB on Wednesday, Sept. 8 from 4 to 9 p.m. This year, attendees will enjoy a leisurely stroll on this self-guided food tour between Dawes and Lamont streets. Sample a great variety of menus from local restaurants. Will call will be at 1503 Garnet Ave. from 3-7 p.m.

Participating restaurants include Armonia Kitchen, Broken Yolk Cafe, Café Athena, Donut Bar Pacific Beach, Freshii, Hoboken Pizza, Iron Pig Ale House, Juice Kaboose, La Michoacana Estrella, Mr. Frostie, PB Fish Shop, SD Taproom, Woodstock's Pizza and Yogurt on the Rocks.

"The restaurant walk is important to PB to get people out into our business district and to give them an opportunity to try the restaurants that they may not have visited or haven't visited in a while due to COVID," said Sunny Lee, executive director of Discover PB, the community's business improvement district. "The restaurant walk is a showcase of those businesses in the heart of Pacific Beach."

The event will be vegetarian-friendly and restaurants that offer a vegetarian option will be noted on the ticket map. Tickets are $20 presale and $25 day of. Tickets will have a map on the back to help guide patrons through the neighborhood. In honor of Sept. 11 Remembrance Day, there has been added an additional donation option for those choosing to add it to their ticket price, with 100% of that donation going to Pacific Beach Fire Station 21.

LJ MAD REPORT

July 1 marked the beginning of a new fiscal year for Enhance La Jolla and the La Jolla Maintenance Assessment District (MAD). Janitorial, landscaping and sidewalk pressure washing activities continue, along with several new projects that will improve the appearance and enjoyability of the district.]

A project to replace declining floral arrangements growing in hanging baskets located in the district began in July. The condition of these hanging flower baskets will be improved with the planting of red zonal geraniums.

An election to fill several Enhance La Jolla board positions will be held in September. All applicants, including current board members seeking re-election, will be required to submit detailed applications.

The application form is available at enhancelajolla.org and must be returned to manager@enhancelajolla.org by 5 p.m. Sept. 5. Voting will occur online, and election results will be announced during the Oct. 21 Enhance La Jolla board meeting, scheduled for 4 p.m. in the Community Room of the La Jolla Ridford Library. If you see an issue needing attention within the district, contact Enhance La Jolla at 858-444-5892 or manager@enhancelajolla.org.

You're Invited to the Mid-Coast on Morena Community Appreciation Festival

On Saturday, August 28, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., SANDAG and MTS will host a community appreciation festival for the Mid-Coast Extension of the UC San Diego Blue Line Trolley. Attendees will have the opportunity to ride the Trolley before the Mid-Coast Extension opens in November!

The free event, known as the Mid-Coast on Morena Community Appreciation Festival, will showcase the new Trolley stations constructed along Morena Boulevard and thank the local community for their support of the project and patience during construction. The event is open to the public and will feature family-friendly activities, tasty food and refreshments, live music, and dignitary speeches.

The main festivities will take place at the Tecolote Road Trolley Station and Balboa Avenue Transit Center, with the option to visit the Clairemont Drive Trolley Station. Parking will be available at the Tecolote Road and Balboa Avenue stations. Additionally, attendees may travel to the event by taking the Trolley from the Old Town Transit Center, where event signage and staff will be in place to provide direction.

The $2.1 billion Mid-Coast Extension will add 11 miles to the UC San Diego Blue Line Trolley, extending service from Downtown San Diego, north to the University Community and serving major activity centers such as Mission Bay Park, the VA Medical Center, UC San Diego, and University Towne Centre.

The Mid-Coast Extension is the largest infrastructure project in the San Diego region's history and a SANDAG priority project. It will expand the MTS Trolley system and improve regional transit options by providing a direct connection from the U.S./Mexico Border to the University Community, with service to several communities in between. The Trolley extension remains on budget and on schedule, with service anticipated to begin in November.

The project is made possible with funds from TransNet, the half-cent sales tax administered by SANDAG to support transportation projects in the San Diego region. TransNet will fund approximately half of the project, with the remaining funding being provided by a grant from the Federal Transit Administration. Major construction for the project began in 2016.

To RSVP to the event, visit the Eventbrite page: <https://bit.ly/MidCoastFest>

To learn more, visit: KeepSanDiegoMoving.com/MidCoast.

Face masks will be provided at the event and must be worn on the Trolley. SANDAG and MTS thank you for your cooperation.

Schools set to open with facemasks, filters, and vaccinations

Following a disrupted 2020 school year due to COVID, which forced teachers, students, administrators, and parents to switch to a remote-learning instructional model, plans are for La Jolla and Mission Bay clusters of San Diego Unified School District this year to return to a traditional in-person schedule starting Monday, Aug. 30.

There are six schools in the Mission Bay Cluster — Mission Bay High, Barnard Mandarin Magnet Elementary, Crown Point Junior Music Academy, Pacific Beach Elementary, Pacific Beach Middle and Kate Sessions Elementary.

Five schools — La Jolla High School, Muirlands Middle School and Bird Rock, La Jolla and Torrey Pines Elementary schools — comprise the La Jolla Cluster within the San Diego Unified School District, which is the second largest in California.

In preparation for the start of the 2021-22 school year, SDUSD released the following statement regarding back-to-school health protocols being observed due to the continuing situation with COVID and its delta variant:

“San Diego Unified has an unwavering commitment to open all schools safely and responsibly for the 2021-2022 academic year. We'd like to make our families aware of the substantial measures that have been put in place to protect the safety of all students, faculty, and staff on our campuses this year, including:

- Upgraded HVAC filtration from MERV 8 to a MERV 13 or HEPA filter, exceeding current requirements;
- Portable air purifiers for areas not served by a MERV or HEPA filter;
- Facemasks required indoors at all times, with nearly 1 million masks distributed to schools
- Handwashing stations and cleaning wipes in multiple locations;

- A particulate sensor and CO2 monitor at each site for monitoring the school's indoor air quality;
- Electrostatic disinfecting sprayers for cleaning school buses;
- Protocols in place for contact tracing, should it be necessary;
- An up-to-date COVID dashboard on its website.

All San Diego Unified staff will be required to get vaccinated or be prepared to take part in a weekly COVID-19 testing regime. Optional weekly testing will be available for students, as testing equipment allows. For unvaccinated school athletes, the district plans to have a testing team at high schools.

Gov. Gavin Newsom announced that all California public schools will require safety measures similar to those in place in San Diego Unified, including a mandate that school employees must be fully vaccinated or tested regularly.

Because student vaccinations are the safest way to get back to school, SDUSD is encouraging everyone to “Make a date to vaccinate.” Vaccines are free and readily accessible throughout the region and can be found by calling 211 or visiting myturn.ca.gov.

GROWLERS HOME GAME

The San Diego Growlers of the American Ultimate Disc League will play their final regular season home game this Friday, Aug. 20 against the San Jose Spiders. Opening pull is at 7 p.m. at Mission Bay High School. Coming off back-to-back wins over LA, the Growlers have officially clinched a home playoff game for the second consecutive season. In two weeks, they'll battle the Dallas Roughnecks — a team that has been to every Championship Weekend since their 2016 inception — for the West Division title.

San Diego Hiking Society helps hikers find their paths

By DAVE SCHWAB

Like bears coming out of hibernation, hikers post-pandemic are re-emerging and grabbing their canteens and boots to pound the trails once again.

And San Diego Hiking Society Facebook Group is there to not only help them gather but learn the basics and share information as well about trails near and far.

“Hiking is a great opportunity to get out and explore the outdoors, but it is also important to be prepared and educated about the trail that you are hiking in order to have a safe and great experience,” said Nick Gee, an admin for the Facebook group that brings together individuals with varying hiking skill and experience levels.

With over 30,000 active Facebook members, the San Diego Hiking Society boasts a wealth of knowledge surrounding trail intel, best hiking gear and equipment, and safety information when out exploring trails. Members with years of experience hiking have

- POPULAR HIKES NEAR THE COAST
- Torrey Pines State Natural Reserve, La Jolla
 - Ho Chi Minh Trail, La Jolla
 - Tecolote Canyon Natural Park, Bay Park
 - Sunset Cliffs Natural Park, Ocean Beach
 - Annie’s Canyon Trail, Solana Beach

also compiled resources and created hiking guides available for members who are hiking beginners.

“We took the pandemic very seriously and didn’t allow group posts so we didn’t get bunches of people hiking with strangers,” said David Lipsitz, another hiking society admin who shared that “COVID lifting saw a spike of new members as many San Diegans turned to the outdoors. Our group tripled in size. In December 2019 our group had about 8,000 members in San Diego County. Now we have about 31,000. In the last 60 days, we’ve had 4,500 people ask to join.”

Lipsitz talked about his Facebook group’s purpose.

“Initially the mission was probably just to get people information about hiking in San Diego,” he said. “Now I would say one of our missions is to create a safer environment by increasing hiker’s education and knowledge.”

Facebook hiking group members have created a supportive and active network ready to share advice – or help assemble search parties to find missing hikers. Lipsitz talked about one hiking search-and-rescue experience he’ll never forget.

“When COVID hit, a 21-year-old kid named Max LeNail, who was a trail runner and avid rock climber, came out here on Jan. 29 from Brown University,” he noted. “He was training in Mission Trails (in Santee) and disappeared. We assembled a search for him. Unfortunately, we found he had drowned while attempting to cross the San Diego River. They’re building a bridge in his name in Mission Trails Regional Park.”

SAN DIEGO HIKER ‘BIBLE’

Since 1986, Jerry Schad’s “Afoot & Afild: San Diego County” has been the premier trail guide for hikers, backpackers, and mountain bikers. The fifth edition features 282 trips, ranging from short, self-guided nature trails to challenging peak climbs and canyon treks. Co-author Scott Turner has fully updated this edition, which includes new maps and more than 30 new hikes.

Investigators believe Max found himself caught in a sudden hailstorm that followed a night of heavy rain. When he approached the San Diego River crossing on the trail that afternoon, according to his cell phone tracker, the water level was likely very high and the terrain slippery. Rather than back-track five miles to endure 2,000 feet of elevation gain in a hailstorm, Max chose the river crossing ahead for a quicker, 10-minute journey back to the parking lot. He never made it.

Lipsitz added their Facebook group’s mission has also broadened and deepened over time.

“It’s about safety and also about being sensitive, particularly to Native lands and Native peoples: That’s important for us,” he said, adding San Diego has become a major hiking destination for good reason.

“San Diego is the most biodiverse single county in the continental United States,” Lipsitz said. “We have an enormous array of species of birds and other animal life. It’s quite extraordinary.”

City Council approves new Parks Master Plan

By DAVE SCHWAB

For the first time in 65 years, San Diego has an updated Parks Master Plan aiming to modernize and equalize its park system, making it more equitable and accessible to everyone.

The new Parks For All Of Us plan aligns parks planning with the City of San Diego’s vision to achieve the shared citywide goals of sustainability and resilience, equity, livability, and connectivity.

The development of the Parks Master Plan is also designed to help implement the City’s Climate Action Plan enacted in 2015, which calls for cutting half of all greenhouse gas emissions by 2035.

Under the new Parks Master Plan, to address current park inequities, a minimum 80% of citywide park development impact fees will be prioritized to park-deficient communities, with at least 50% of that amount to be prioritized solely within Communities of Concern for at least five years.

- NEW CITYWIDE PARKS MASTER PLAN
- Forms an interconnected citywide park system.
 - Provides thriving recreational spaces accessed by walking, biking or transit.
 - Facilitates innovative recreational opportunities.
 - Expands citywide park system by acquiring new parkland in areas where it’s needed most.
 - Creates opportunities for everyone to safely and enjoyably play outside.
 - Designs a healthy sustainable park system that preserves critical habitat and open space and protects bio-diversity.
- Surveys reveal:
- 67% of residents are satisfied or very satisfied with the City’s parks.
- Residents support the acquisition of new parkland and new public parks.
 - Residents also favored upgrades to existing parks.
- There are opportunities to add recreational value within existing public spaces. Priorities include small neighborhood parks, open space and trails, beaches and shoreline parks, fitness and wellness programs, senior programs, and nature programming. Master plan objectives seek to reduce times to get to parks to a 10-minute walk and roll, a 20-minute bike ride, or micro-mobility ride, or 30-minute transit access.

my colleagues, residents and I provided to create something we can all be proud of. Moving forward, San Diego will have more parks in all neighborhoods, but especially in communities in desperate need of new recreational opportunities.”

“As our City continues to grow and expand, we are proud to have a plan that will give everyone, regardless of their background, identity, ability, and location, access to high-quality parks,” said the City’s Planning Director Mike Hansen.

The Social Diary – Jewel Ball 007 glamour ‘spied’

By MARGO SCHWAB

Ask any female: “Diamonds are Forever” and fabulous too! And with that theme, the 75th annual Jewel Ball was on at the La Jolla Beach & Tennis Club.

Approximately 600 guests came to party for great causes including Episcopal Community Services, Promises2Kids, and Canine Companions for Independence.

Behind the Scenes did the catering, and the ever-wonderful ladies of Las Patronas did all the hard work to make it happen. More than $25 million has been raised over the years to support the community.

Among the glittering attendees were Nancy and Fred Borelli of Scorpion Bay Hotel, Sharon and Michael Luscomb of La Jolla Kayak, Showdance music sponsor Dianne Bashor, Kathryn Murphy and Lance Peto, Sheila and Larry Combe of Bowers, and the evening’s leading ladies, chairperson Kathy Lobo, co-chairs Megan Cox and Robyne Daniels, and Las Patronas president Martha Sottosanti.

Till next time!

San Diego Swim Week debuted a three-day event on Aug. 12-14. There was an amazing line up of luxury swimwear, networking opportunities, VIP parties, and pop-up shops. The first two nights were at Flora The Venue beginning with a red carpet. The exotic styles of Sharnel Guy started the runway moving. Next on the runway was a brand made by women for women named Pineapple and Pink Swimwear. Following them came the colorful styles of Abydara. Leizl had a knockout swimsuit decorated with sequins from top to bottom. Scott Rich had colorful prints coming down the runway and the evening closed with the Hawai'i inspired swimwear of Leimakani.

energizing the Village, bringing some energy to the community, which is what we've been hearing for years."

Brett Murphy, former Village Merchant Association president, liked the street fair concept but urged caution.

"Our farmers market on Sundays give money back to children and schools," he said. "The last thing we want is any sort of competition there. I'd like to see who the actual vendors are, what mix that is."

unveiled the results of a recent poll of 417 participants, which concluded that 87% of 92037 locals surveyed confirmed that they would like to see street fairs/events in the Village.

Afterward, she introduced Diem Do of Community Crops, the firm selected by Village Merchant Association, following an extensive request for proposals, to be the street market manager should it come to pass.

"We've been doing this for nearly 25 years," said Do. "And always, every single neighborhood really needs different things in its markets. We have at our disposal 300 vendors we've worked with, some for nearly 20 years. We haven't selected any vendors yet. We're too early in the process."

The intent of the new street fair, said Rudick, would be to create a small, mid-week street fair/block party/market within La Jolla's business district running from 3 to 7 p.m. on Thursdays.

Public Notice

Pacific Beach Community Development Corporation and Pacific Beach Business Improvement District of The City Of San Diego NOTICE OF ELECTION AND GENERAL MEETING

The Pacific Beach Business Improvement District (PBBID) includes business and rent-al properties with six or more units, in the area which can be approximately described as the area circumscribed by Interstate 5, the Mission Beach Boardwalk, Crown Point Drive and Turquoise Street. The purpose of the PBBID and The Pacific Beach Community Development Corporation (PBCDC) is to provide an organizational framework and funding for the improvement of the area. Pacific Beach area business license holders and owners of rental property with six or more units, are invited to run for election as a member of the PBCDC Board of Directors. Nominations are currently being solicited for five (5) seats on the fifteen (15) member Board. The Board has appointed a nominating committee to whom nominations may be made by submitting a petition or letter. The nomination petition or letter must be submitted to the nominating committee by September 3rd at 5pm either by mail or emailing sunny@pacificbeach.org. Additional nominations may be made from the floor at the September 7, 2021 meeting. The Board of Directors will also review the list of business and rental property license holders to confirm their representative's eligibility to be voting delegates for the election. The business delegate will be the person named in that business license unless a business indicates differently in writing to the PBCDC Board of Directors. The Board of Directors must receive the written notice of the business delegate change at or before their September 7, 2021 meeting. All delegates' terms will end with the election. The list of known business and property license holders eligible to vote will be available for review after the September 7, 2021 meeting by contacting Sunny Lee at 858-273-3303. The Board will then consider reports and other matters to be placed on the agenda for the annual election meeting. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors is scheduled for October 19, 2021 at 5:00pm, at Discover Pacific Beach office, 1503 Gar-net Avenue. Newly elected members of the Board of Directors will be inducted and the Board will consider any other items placed on the agenda by the Board of Directors. A majority of the current Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for a meeting of the Board of Directors and meeting of the delegates for the October 19th annual meeting.

The second red carpet night began with the eclectic designs of Jams by Jillian. Following this came Ellevethelabel who will be launching their Goddess Collection on Aug. 22. Next came BOLD Swim, which is an Eco friendly and sustainably produced line using biodegradable fabrics. Next, veteran fashion designer Oseas Villatoro hit the runway with his designs. XOCAL BIQUINI graced the catwalk with styles that embraced all body types. The evening finished with award winning international fashion designer Ugochi Iwuaba.

The third day was held at Il Sogno Italiano and hosted by Emmy winning journalist, Alexandria Hernandez. Tunes were provided by Adhima Kelele.

The founder and director Eyga Mojus was on hand to greet all the guests. She is no stranger to the runway as a former model and producer of pageant shows with her company Miss Mojus Productions.

The theme for the afternoon was "Sip and Shop." The designers from the fashion shows set up pop-up shops and all the guests were busy buying. Julia Nguyen talked about her book "Awaken the Hero Within" that helps you navigate your personal inner journey, and Jordan L. Brown brought her book on wellness titled "Mind Cheer."

There were two standouts for the afternoon. The first was Marisa Butler who is Miss Earth USA. This beauty pageant supports "Beauties for a Cause." Butler has many environmental organizations that she backs and her own personal project is called We Clean Trails, which invites groups and individuals to clean up trails every weekend. In addition to speaking on Saturday she walked the runway in several of the shows.

The other standout was Abena Akuaba who is Miss Grand International 2020. She became the first Black woman to win this title along with the Miss Universe Ghana title in 2014, winner of "Queen Beauty Universe," and was in the top 20 at the 2019 Miss Earth competition.

SPANISH-BEACH-MODERN MASTERPIECE

3500 JEWELL STREET, CROWN POINT OFFERED AT $4,295,000

Designed by renowned architect Mark Lee Christopher of Sanctuary Architects, this 2019 reimagining of a 1927 Spanish bungalow is everything a discerning buyer could want in a coveted bayside neighborhood. Built to the highest standards and comprising 4,743 square feet across 3 levels (including a 2000sf basement with a mermaid window peering into the backyard pool), 3500 Jewell Street is the ultimate expression of Spanish-beach-modern. A prime corner lot affords remarkable views of Mission Bay and Downtown San Diego's skyline. There are 6 en-suite bedrooms, one of which is a bay-view guest suite that is separate from the main residence. The backyard is private with a pool, spa, and outdoor fireplace. The gated front yard enjoys a fantastic outdoor kitchen and ample space to play, garden, and enjoy the wonderful community of Crown Point.

Useful conversations – how to help a friend work through issues

By Natasha Josefowitz, Ph.D.

In any communication between two people, each one evaluates, accepts, rejects, classifies, or assimilates what the other is saying. We all have a tendency to hear what pleases us, or what we think the other will say, preoccupied as we are by our own response — we often don't really listen. One of the pleasures of conversation is to talk about oneself, each believing that the other is fascinated by the tale. We love an audience. There are times when a friend has a problem and rather than listen and then respond with a "me too, I had the same problem," and go on to a recitation, we can try to help. Being really useful takes the following steps into account:

- First, you should encourage the friend to state the problem with no interruptions, but possibly with head nodding, "Uh huh," "I see," or "I understand."

- Second, you ask open-ended questions to clarify your understanding. What do you mean by...? Tell me more about.... What do you make of it? Why do you think it happened? What part might you have played in it? Have you thought of a solution? Have you talked to anyone else about the problem? If so, what were the results?
- Third, ask how the problem has affected others in your friend's family or workplace, and what some of the reactions have been.
- Fourth, if something your friend has said makes no sense or was repeated several times or seems out of context, trust yourself and ask for a clarification. Also pay attention to changes of affect — some troubling things are said with no emotion, while other, seemingly more mundane things, elicit a lot of feeling.

- Fifth, generally, one can question what has precipitated the problem, what makes it endure, does anyone benefit by this problem continuing, what does your friend need now, could do more of, less of, stop or start? Are there obstacles to resolving it? Are there resources available one can tap into?
- Finally, there is the question of what is called "secondary gain." Is there an unconscious benefit to prolonging the problem and keeping it unresolved. This may reveal itself if the person says, "Yes, but..." at each suggestion with a refusal of accepting any help.

One technique that may help someone who is struggling to understand what went wrong in a relationship is role playing. Have your friend be the person who is perceived as the problem, and you play your friend, then have a dialogue in your new roles. Often some clarification on attitudes can result from this interaction, helping to understand motives and hidden agendas.

The Gestalt method uses a form of therapy called the "empty chair." If your friend has a problem with another person, tell your friend to talk to the empty chair as if that person was sitting there. This can be cathartic. It can even help someone to talk to a dead person and say the things they had wanted to say while the person was alive, but did not have the chance to do, often a parent with whom one has an unresolved issue.

Some of the problems that all helping people face are their own prejudices and preconceived ideas. Being non-judgmental while listening is difficult. You are there to resolve, not to criticize or control. Getting in touch with your own prejudices, your own preferred way of doing things, your impatience with the lack of understanding with what may seem obvious to you, your disapproval of some dysfunctional behavior exhibited by your friend, all come into play unconsciously unless you make the effort of uncovering what motivates you and controls your behavior. A good strategy is reiterating what the friend said to be sure you understand exactly what was meant.

Occasionally when a lot of emotions are expressed, it may just help to hold your friend's hand, if appropriate. Human touch has been known to calm and reassure in ways no words can. Even sitting in silence together can be beneficial. Do not underestimate your own gut feelings as to what your next move should be. Trust your own sense of what is needed and would be helpful.

However, first and foremost, you need to just be there for your friend, sympathetic and available. Sometimes all that is needed is to talk and have someone listen with interest and compassion.
