Best Catering

Miguels's

The love of traditional regional cooking inspired the Morton family to open the first Miguel's Cocina in 1982. Beginning with a few classic recipes culled from the chef's family and friends – the menu captured the true spirit of Mexico along with a loyal following. Sonoran grilled swordfish tacos, sizzling sirloin fajitas, and spicy rich chicken mole are among the favorites. Enjoy handmade tortillas, fresh salsas, and colorful crispy chips made fresh daily right in the kitchen. And of course, there's the decadent, must-have jalapeño white sauce, occasionally referred to as "white gold" by regulars. Top it off with a refreshing, hand-shaken margarita, and celebrate life.

Pick-Up Stix

It all began with Charlie Zhang, a Chinese immigrant who arrived in the U.S. in 1982. Thus, the first Pick Up Stix restaurant was opened in 1989 in Rancho Santa Margarita, California. Did Charlie's idea work? You could say so. Today, Pick Up Stix is a leader in the quick-casual dining segment with more than 70 locations in California.

Local Brewery

Modern Times Beer

Modern Times Beer describes themselves as an intrepid cadre of brewers, coffee roasters, and culinary wizards that began as a production brewery and tasting room in a Point Loma neighborhood. Modern Times is named after a beautifully crazy utopian community founded in 1850, and many of their beers are named after real utopian experiments or mythological utopias. Today, they are distributed throughout So. Cal, Arizona, Nevada, and the Pacific Northwest. In addition to the flagship brewery and roastery in Point Loma, they now have brewery/restaurant locations in Los Angeles and Portland, as well as a tasting room in San Diego's North Park neighborhood, and a restaurant and tap room in Encinitas. Cool huh.

Best Lunch

Fish Shop Point Loma

Between fish options, seasonings, styles and sides, there are more than 2,000 combinations to choose from. The fun starts when choosing from one of their daily selections of fresh fish paired with one of their seasonings and a choice of serving styles: tucked in a taco, as a sandwich, in a salad, or on a plate. Lunch and dinner choices can be prepared as lean or as indulgent as one wishes. For starters you can choose from tomato-based Fish Shop soup, a hearty New England-style clam chowder or a rich Fish Shop chowder. The traditional fish 'n' chips is fried, but can be grilled for a lighter option. Low calorie sides, such as vinaigrette coleslaw, seven-grain steamed rice, and seaweed salad are always available. If it's a cheat day, however, the house-cut fries, onion rings, or good 'ol mac salad will always please. Enjoy one of the many local and California microbrew beers or from the wine selection. For a $5 corkage fee, you can even bring in your own bottle.

Wife and husband proprietors, Supanee and Alec House, thought long and hard about what to call their first restaurant. They settled on a combination of her first name, Supanee, and his last name, House. It's a double entendre. Supanee House of Thai! Weaving a colorful wrap of love, family, Thai-inspired harmony, and the passion to serve the freshest and healthiest foods available, Supanee House graciously invites you to her restaurant. The essence of family traveled all the way from Thailand where she grew up with her nine brothers and sisters on a small rice farm in the Korat District east of Bangkok. The tropical-green countryside of her childhood was laced with contoured rice paddies and palm trees – and fresh food growing everywhere. Supanee House of Thai restaurant is the story of families, from Thailand and San Diego; that were joined by love and a mutual dream of sharing delicious Thai cuisine with San Diegans.
